Man Shoots Lawyer, Holds 5 Hostages

Goes Berserk When Case Is Ignored

Worker Claims Compensation For Construction Injury

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A construction worker wounded his attorney today and then forced staff members of the Arizona Industrial Commission at gunpoint to hear his claim for compensation.

Charles E. Milligan, 50, of Tempe, Ariz., said he would not release his five hostages from a hearing room in the state capitol annex until he had made all his statements "and they have been typed up."

Earlier Milligan shot his attorney, Stephen Gorey, 46 in the left leg as, witnesses said, Gorey tried to take the gun away from Milligan. Gorey was reported in good condition at a Phoenix hospital.

Speaking to a police officer by telephone, Milligan declined a suggestion that a doctor be permitted to enter the room. "I don't need any head-shrinker from the commission," he said.

ROOM DOOR

Police manned the hallways outside the hearing room and streets around the building, clearing them of curious onlookers.

Police said Milligan had gone to the building for a hearing and the five men were attempting to placate him by going ahead with the hearing.

In addition, police brought Milligan's wife and a son to the hearing room door in an attempt to lure him out.

Later, Milligan asked for drinks for everyone, but then said a man identified only as Dewitt could get them. Dewitt was among those assembled outside in the hall. He got the drinks, took them in the room and then came back out.

Clerks in the industrial commission office said Milligan had been employed in construction work at Page, Ariz.

He injured his back in June and it was believed he and Gorey had come for a hearing concerning compensation.

British Gov't Orders Spy Back To U.S.

Arranges Flight For Soblen On Israeli Airline

LONDON (UPI) — Britain today refused political asylum to Dr. Robert Soblen and ordered him back to the United States to start serving a life sentence for spying for the Soviets.

Home Secretary Henry Brooke, in an announcement to the House of Commons, said the British government had found "no ground for granting Dr. Soblen political asylum here."

"He is not in danger of persecution in his own country for his political opinions or on racial grounds," Brooke said.

"Dr. Soblen is a convicted spy, a fugitive from a sentence imposed on him by the courts of a country whose life is based on democratic institutions and constitutional guarantees."

The statement said it had ordered the Israeli El Al airline to fly Soblen back to the United States.

CUT HIMSELF

Soblen, a 61-year-old native of Lithuania, had been deported by Israel last month and was on his way back to the United States aboard an El Al airliner when he slashed himself in the stomach and wrists forcing the plane to land in London so he could be hospitalized.

Soblen, convicted of wartime espionage for Russia, had jumped $100,000 bail in New York last June 25 and fled to Israel just before he was due to surrender to federal authorities in New York to start his life term.

Brooke told Parliament that Soblen had made formal application to be released from prison and allowed to go to Communist Czechoslovakia. The home secretary said there was no reason to consider this plea.

In a detailed statement, Brooke stressed that Soblen had no right to be in Britain and that he was given temporary housing here only because he had to be hospitalized to "save his life."

Green Indicates Adjustment To Angola Cuts Made

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Chairman Chester Green of the Louisiana Board of Institutions said today he believes the $750,000 budget cut at the state penitentiary "is being worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned."

He told the board, "the only thing we can do is the best we can with what we have—that's the most anybody can expect us to do."

The sharp budget slash for Angola, approved in the 1962 Legislature, along with many cuts in other state agencies because of a record state budget, drew little board comment other than a bare mention in a subcommittee report.

BATTERY CHARGE

The board, and Green, commended Supt. Dallas Matthews of the State Industrial School for Colored Youth at nearby Baker, for doing what they said was a good job in handling a tense situation there recently.

On July 10th, the East Baton Rouge Parish grand jury indicted George D. Smith for manslaughter and four of the all-Negro school's cottage fathers on aggravated battery charges in the beating death of a 15-year-old New Orleans inmate. Smith was assistant superintendent.

A report by the institutions board subcommittee on the school, headed by R. L. Pettit Sr., said it feels the office of Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher "conducted a very extensive investigation and proper indictments have been filed against the employes involved."

Institutions Director E. R. Anderson read a letter from Mayor S. M. Noble of Zachary, near the school, which said the town aldermen and the mayor wanted to commend Supt. Matthews for operating the school in a most favorable manner.

Dog Instructor

LAKE RONKONKOMA, N.Y. (UPI) — A beach club in this Long Island community found the perfect solution to the problem of teaching children how to perform correctly a fundamental swim stroke.

Swim instructor Raymond Roe employed the services of "lady" an aqua-canine to demonstrate the dog-paddle.

Traffic Jammed As State Crews Work On Bridge

Traffic snarled on the Ouachita River bridge here today while state highway crewmen repaired a plate on the span of the bridge.

Two lanes were blocked off on the bridge after 7 a.m.—a peak hour for traffic on Cypress Street in West Monroe and Louisville Avenue in Monroe.

Motorists moved across the bridge in two lanes for about 40 minutes.

District Engineer Ellis Ross said the plate was welded as crewmen completed the job.

Algerians OK Three-Point Peace Pact

ALGIERS (UPI) — Rival political factions announced today they have reached a three-point agreement to settle the Algerian political crisis and set the stage for national elections.

A joint declaration issued by Mohammed Khider, envoy of dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, and the leaders of the anti-Ben Bella faction announced agreement on:

A political bureau to run the country.

Elections for an Algerian constituent.

A meeting of the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), supreme council and "parliament" of the revolutionary movement.

SOLVE DISPUTE

At the same time Khider announced that Ben Bella and other members of the political bureau will arrive in Algiers late Friday.

The announcement was issued after the rival politicians met for the second day under military pressure to solve their dispute and start organizing Algeria as an independent nation.

Khider met with three aides of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, Belkacem Krim, Mohammed Boudiaf, and Col. Mohand Ould El Hadj.

Krim and the colonel, who heads a military district loyal to Ben Khedda, seemed tense as they arrived for the talks in Krim's office. Krim was accompanied by two bodyguards in civilian clothes.

Boudiaf, who was released Wednesday after a one-day seizure by Ben Bellist troops, arrived later.

Khider indicated Wednesday night that the failure to reach a political settlement up to now meant there was little chance of elections before the end of the month. They originally had been planned for Aug. 12.

Report GI Defects To Communists

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The Czechoslovak news agency, CTK, said today a member of a U.S. Army rocket unit in West Germany has sought political asylum in Czechoslovakia.

The agency said the soldier, identified as R. S. Hareld, asked for asylum on the grounds of racial discrimination in the West.

In Prague, Communist sources were reported to have told Western newsmen Hareld was a Negro officer, but CTK did not give his rank.

Hareld was accompanied by a German woman identified by CTK as Margita Schlottag, said to have been a U.S. Army employe in Germany.

The U.S. Embassy in Prague, reached by phone, said it had heard Hareld walked across the Czech frontier near Austria with the German woman.

"We have no confirmation, however, that he has asked for political asylum," an embassy source said.

U.S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg had no immediate comment on the report.

In Washington, the Army said a Sgt. Raymond S. Hareld has been absent from his unit since May 8 and was last seen near the Czech-Austrian border May 30.

Hareld was listed as assigned to the 5th Missile Battalion, 1st

Prisoners Riot In Havana Prison

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three hundred prisoners rioted in Havana Tuesday night, and guards wounded four with gunfire, the Cuban Families Committee reported on Wednesday.

A spokesman for the committee, comprising relatives of Cuban prisoners, said horrible conditions in El Principe Prison led to the riot.

He said the men apparently broke out of their cell blocks. They displayed a banner with the words, "We are hungry," he reported.

DESPITE KENNEDY COMMENT

Albany Troubles Still Unchanged

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Racial issues remained deadlocked today despite President John F. Kennedy's comment that the situation in this southwest Georgia city is "wholly unsatisfactory."

As the White House stepped openly into the matter, a federal court hearing continues on whether mass demonstrations by Negroes should be banned.

And Negroes kept up their campaign of going to jail in protest of segregation.

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. rejected the President's position that city officials should sit down and talk with Negro leaders. And Kelley got support from Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

40 PER CENT

"We will never talk to outside agitators about local problems," the mayor said.

Sole spokesman for the seven-member City Commission, Kelley blamed agitators for creating turmoil in Albany, where Negroes comprise about 40 per cent of the 58,000 population.

Asked if that referred to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, currently in jail as a result of integrationist activities, the mayor replied.

"I mean exactly that."

Georgia's governor commented in a statement in Atlanta that he agreed with the refusal of Albany officials "to sit down and discuss matters of importance with outside agitators and racial showoffs."

Kennedy promised in Washington at his news conference to "do everything in our power to protect the constitutional rights of all the people."

"'Let me say that I find it wholly inexplicable why the city of Albany will not sit down with the citizens of Albany, who may be Negroes, and attempt to secure them, in a peaceful way, their rights. The United States government is involved in sitting down at Geneva with the Soviet Union. I can't understand why the government of Albany, City Council of Albany, cannot do the same for American citizens."

The mayor didn't rule out the possibility of talking with Albany Negroes but he stated as a condi-

Jonesville received 2.47 inches, Tallulah, 1.09, St. Joseph, .22, Winnsboro, .11, Calhoun, .01, Columbia, .83 and Monroe, a trace. Rainfall also was reported at Ferriday, Farmerville and in Winn Parish.

Judge Doubts Authority To Rehire Negro

By VAN SAVELL

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Federal District Judge Harold Cox told attorneys today he doubted his court had the authority to force Greene County to rehire a Negro teacher.

Cox made his comment from the bench as rebuttal testimony began in a Justice Department suit to restore the jog of teacher Ernestine Talbert, 33 - year - old Lucedale woman whose contract to teach at the Greene County Vocational High School was not renewed after she became involved in a voter suit.

TEACHING JOB

Justice Department attorney John Doar introduced FBI-photographed voter records for Clarke, Greene, George and Walthall counties without explaining what he planned to prove. Cox allowed the Greene and George records because "this is apparently a case based entirely on circumstantial evidence."

Mrs. Talbert was not rehired for her teaching job at Leakesville shortly after signing affidavits in a voter suit against the circuit clerk of George County, where she lives.

Cox queried attorneys about laws which allowed a court to restore the teaching job to the woman.

"I had always thought it fundamental that a court couldn't make a contract," he said. "I wish someone would quote me some authority.

"Frankly, I don't think the court has the authority to make a party contract with someone they don't want. And I don't see any reason why Greene County should have to have a reason not to rehire Mrs. Talbert."

Testimony from Greene County circuit clerk Lloyd E. Perry indicated several dead Negroes were still registered after several years. State atty. Martin McLendon claimed "the government is trying to impeach its own records with its witness," and he objected.

Boy Suffocates In Suitcase

GOLDEN MEADOW, La. (AP)—Kevin Cheramie, 5, of Golden Meadow suffocated Wednesday when playmates locked him in an airtight suitcase, officers said.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cheramie.

Mrs. Cheramie said she noticed Kevin missing and started looking for him. One child heard her yelling, she said, and said Kevin was in the suitcase in her watershed.

She estimated her son had been in the suitcase, where blankets were stored, 20 minutes.

A physician said resuscitation and emergency heart massage failed to revive Kevin.

AT NEW BRIDGE

Boat Landing On D'Arbonne Slated

Louisiana's Highway Department will provide West Monroe with a pleasure boat landing next to the new D'Arbonne Bridge, and is considering a West Monroe Chamber of Commerce request for a boat landing next to and under the I-20 Highway bridge.

A. L. (Buddy) DeLoach Jr., chairman of the WMCC civic improvement committee, pointed this out today.

DeLoach said that Highway Director Roy Burgess has promised the chamber to provide the D'Arbonne Bayou boat landing, as soon as construction on the bridge is completed.

Burgess also is looking into the possibility of the I-20 boat landing, on the Ouachita River.

If Burgess approves the landing site, it will be on I-20 right-of-way, both under and next to the bridge.

"Land there would be sufficient for a landing," said DeLoach. "Work on the bridge would have to be altogether completed before they could go ahead with the landing."

"On request of the Chamber of Commerce, the state is going to construct the D'Arbonne landing for small fishing craft," he continued. "A ramp will be provided, so that motorists may back their cars and boat trail-

None Hurt In Unscheduled Tour Of Bus

SAN REMO, Italy (AP)—A Dutch touring bus, parked empty on a steep street in this Riviera resort, slipped its brakes, rolled downhill and shot 600 feet through the heart of town Wednesday without causing a single injury.

Sidewalks on both sides of the street were jammed and there was plenty of automobile traffic.

The heavy bus finally crashed through a protective wall at the railroad station and came to a halt on the tracks minutes before a fast international express was scheduled to pass through. A telephone call halted the train in time.

The driver drew a small fine for negligence.

Federal Pay Raises Okayed In Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Brushing aside Kennedy administration objections, the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee voted today to give 1.8 million federal workers pay raises totaling $1.2 billion a year.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. James Morrison, D-La., was cleared 18-3 after weeks of closed-door battling.

The outcome was a defeat for the administration which had sought to the last to salvage some part of President Kennedy's somewhat less costly pay raise.

No one in the administration has brandished the threat of an election-year veto over the Morrison bill. Budget Director David Bell wrote the committee last week, however, that the measure "would not fulfill the fundamental requirements" of Kennedy's proposal.

LAST COMPROMISE

The conflict between the Morrison and Kennedy bills was not over the total cost. Kennedy's plan would cost $1 billion itself.

The differences involved timing of the pay increases and the amounts to be paid to employes in the heavily - staffed lower grades of the postal and civil service.

The Morrison bill would provide pay hikes in two yearly installments—retroactive to July 1, 1962. The last compromise plan backed by the administration would have provided three yearly installments starting next Oct. 1.

WASHINGTON CONFUSION

Passman Asked To Answer Own Query

WASHINGTON (AP)—"This is a hell of a way to run a railroad," commented Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., today as he accused foreign aid officials of not knowing which nations are not receiving aid.

"They had to go to a congressional source to find out," Passman complained. "They don't even know to whom they are giving the billions of dollars we appropriate every year for foreign aid."

Passman, who heads an appropriations subcommittee in charge of aid funds, cited an incident that occurred at a committee session last Monday.

He told a reporter he asked officials of the agency for international development, to supply a list of nations that have not received U.S. aid since World War II and are not scheduled to receive any this year.

The officials, he said, didn't have the information with them but agreed to get it.

"Subsequently," he said, "I got an inquiry from the Library of Congress saying the aid agency had asked them for a list of countries that had not received aid since World War II and for which none was programmed through 1963."

The library, Passman assumed, did not know that it was Passman's request that produced the inquiry but did assume that he knew the answer. Also, he assumed, the foreign aid officials didn't expect the library to go to Passman for the information.

At a subsequent hearing, he said, "I told them it was a rather sad state of affairs that when I ask you for information, you go to the Library of Congress and they come to me to get it."

He said the officials explained that they use all available sources of information when they seek data for Congress.

Persecutions In Argentina Draw Unfavorable Comment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has advised Argentina on an informal basis that recent anti-Jewish incidents in the South American republic are causing unfavorable comment in this country.

Similar incidents in Uruguay also have been reported, and, like those in Argentina, have brought criticism in the U.S. Congress.

A State Department official emphasized today that the U.S. Representations were made as a friendly gesture and in no sense carried any criticism of the Argentine government. Even before the U.S. viewpoint was given to Argentine officials in Washington and in Buenos Aires, the official said, the Argentine government had publicly deplored the incidents and announced that firm action would be taken to avoid such occurrences in the future.

Informed sources here said that while anti-Semitism was not an announced policy of the government of Juan D. Peron, former dictator of Argentina, the Peronists often followed an anti-Jewish course and that recent incidents probably were the actions of a few die-hard Peron followers.

Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y., and Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., are among those protesting the incidents. Zelenko telegraphed President Kennedy Wednesday that aid to Argentina and Uruguay should be stopped unless what he termed unrestrained anti-Jewish outbreaks are stopped.

Halpern wrote Teodoro Moscoso, coordinator of the U.S. Alliance for Progress agency, suggesting aid to Argentina be cut off due to the incidents.

Argentina has the largest Jewish population in South America.

Deposed Latin Boss Arrives In France

PARIS (AP) — Deposed Peruvian President Manuel Prado arrived in Parisian exile today with a message from President Kennedy praising him as a champion of democracy.

An aide said Kennedy's message was delivered Wednesday night in New York, during Prado's 90-minute stopover en route from Peru, by Edwin M. Martin, Assistant U.S. Secretary of State for Latin American affairs.

The message said:

"Although you are touching down on United States soil only briefly, I very much want you to know how much I admire your steadfast support of freedom.

"For over 20 years in varying circumstances of prosperity and adversity you have shown yourself to be a staunch supporter of liberty and democracy in the world, in the hemisphere and in your country.

"I and my countrymen wish you godspeed in the days ahead. You and your wife have our good wishes for a safe journey and good health."

The United States suspended diplomatic relations and cut off aid to Peru after the military ousted and imprisoned Prado 11 days before his six-year term expired last Saturday.

Massachusetts Rivals Attract Outside Money

BOSTON (AP)— President Kennedy's youngest brother and House Speaker McCormack's nephew are attracting out-of-state contribution in their campaign for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

But Edward M. Kennedy is outdistancing not only his opponent in the Sept. 18 primary, Edward J. McCormack Jr., but other candidates as well, reports on file with the Massachusetts secretary of state show.

A new law requires candidates to file alphabetical lists of all contributors of $25 or more. The deadline for the period of the pre-primary convention campaign was 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Kennedy reported his three campaign committees received $91,691 compared with $33,937 reported by McCormack. Many contributions to both campaigns came from New York and Washington but Kennedy's list of $500-and-up contributors was six times the length of McCormack's.

McCormack himself contributed $12,200, but Kennedy reported no personal donation to his own campaign.

Former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney contributed $500 to the Kennedy cause and singer Morton Downey $1,000.

H. Stuart Hughes, grandson of former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, reported receipts of $33,740 in his campaign as an independent for the U.S. Senate.

Balloon Soaring Over Canada

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (AP)— A 380-foot tall U.S. balloon floated westward over Canada today, carrying two monkeys and two hamsters on a new test of the cosmic rays man may encounter in space flights.

Changes have been made in the capsule's environment control, blamed for the deaths of monkeys and hamsters which made the first flight July 14. An official said the coiling system was changed from ammonia to water and adjustments were made in the method of heating the cabin.

The payload sent up Wednesday carried three separate capsules. The animals are in the first, flour beetles and an assortment of seeds and nerve cells in the second and a film pack for the National Research Council of Canada in the third.

The capsules are exposed to about 50 per cent of the primary cosmic radiation—the amount man can expect to face in flights into deep space.

The balloon came near its intended maximum altitude of 128,000 feet within 5½ hours after the takeoff. The capsules are scheduled to be detached by radio control and recovered Friday after the 2,000-mile trip to Edmonton, Alberta. The trip is expected to take about 54 hours.

Two more such flights are planned.

Chrysler Will Receive Huge NASA Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s Space Division at New Orleans will receive a $215,502,744 contract from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for production of boosters for the Saturn C1 space vehicle.

The White House notified Louisiana congressmen Wednesday of the contract plans.

Under the terms, Chrysler will build 21 boosters for the Saturn project being developed for manned shots to the moon.

The bulk of the work is to be done at the Michoud plane in New Orleans, the White House said, with some facets to be handled at Slidell, La.; Detroit, Mich.; and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Static testing of the vehicles will be done at Huntsville, Ala., the White House said.

Under the contract the first booster is to be completed in the first quarter of 1964 and the last of the work is to be completed by Sept. 1, 1966.

Where Chrysler now has 750 employes at the Michoud plant, the White House said, employment will increase to a high of 2,700 by mid-1963.

The White House also said a second contract is to be signed between NASA and Chrysler to cover equipment needed to carry out the prime contract. The second contract, said the White House, will be for $7,102,322. Work involved in this contract will be done at Michoud, Huntsville and Cape Canaveral.

Federal Grant Approved For Selman Field

A 36,912 federal grant has been approved for the purchase of land and approach lights for Selman Field by the City of Monroe.

This was learned yesterday through Congressman Hale Boggs, who was notified that over $1-million had been approved for six Louisiana airports.

At Monroe, airport manager Hank Hargrove explained that the city planned to buy about 31.6 acres of land at Selman Field.

"We have been waiting for the federal allocation to consumate the deal," he said.

In addition, Hargrove pointed out that the city will add approach lights to assist airplanes in "bad weather landings on instruments."

The additional land, he said, would be used as a clear zone—beginning at the end of the present runway and extending for one - half mile.

Hargrove said the approach lights would bring the airport facilities in line with federal regulations.

Other allocations in Louisiana include Baton Rouge, $300,000; Lafayette, $421,326; Lake Charles, $119,512; New Orleans, $129,624; and Shreveport, $111,983.

No Thalidomide Received By Area Doctors

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — No north Louisiana doctors received shipments of the German tranquilizer blamed for deformities in thousands of babies, according to E. C. Boudreaux, of the Food and Drug Administration, New Orleans.

The tranquilizer, thalidomide, has been blamed for the birth of several thousand malformed babies in West Germany and other countries after being taken by pregnant women.

There have also been reports of birth defects among babies born in the United States after the drug was used.

Boudreaux said 22 doctors in Louisiana received shipments of the drug.

However, he said that most of the shipments went to doctors in south and southeastern Louisiana, primarily in New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Names and hometowns of the doctors who received the new drug were not released by the FDA.

The New Orleans office is in charge of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Little Relief In Sight For Drought Stricken Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today little relief is in sight for the drought-stricken Northeast during the next 30 days.

"Subnormal rains are anticipated in the Gulf and Pacific Coast states and also in those northeastern states currently affected by drought," the bureau said in its 30-day outlook.

It added that continued below normal temperatures are expected over the northern half of the nation east of the Continental Divide but above normal in the Gulf states, the Southeast and the Pacific Northwest.

Near normal temperatures are expected to prevail in unspecified areas "except for below normal over the Far Southwest."

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal from the Southern Plateau states through the Central Plains and the Ohio Valley, the bureau said.

Water Caused Fire

CENTERVILLE, Iowa (UPI)— A minor blaze at farmer Earl Farley's house Wednesday had its origin in a bottle of water.

Ship Interests Oppose Barge Rate Reducing

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — New Orleans shipping, port and business interests Wednesday opposed a proposal that Baton Rouge barge rates be lowered to give industries in that area a better position in competing with up-river ports in Mississippi and Tennessee.

T. M. Hogg, manager of the Greater Baton Rouge Port Commission, asked the waterways Freight Bureau for the rate cut, complaining the growth of Baton Rouge was hampered by unfair barge rates.

Thousands of tons of pipe and steel are moving annually into Memphis, Greenville, Vicksburg and Natchez - Vidalia," he said, "much of which would be susceptible to movement via Baton Rouge if the same rate relationship at other ports were pushed for Baton Rouge."

Louis Schwartz, general manager of the New Orleans Traffic and Transportation Bureau, contended present barge rates was not injuring Baton Rouge's growth and that the city's port traffic had increased.

E. B. McKinney, assistant traffic manager of the traffic and transportation bureau, said lowering the Baton Rouge rate would bring on requests for similar cuts from other ports.

Other's testified the present rates were not unfair to Baton Rouge and had been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Waterways Freight Bureau, composed of representatives from barge lines, concluded an open hearing on the subject by advising all parties their statements would get careful consideration.

Man Held In Traffic Death

OADALE, La. (AP)—Authorities held Frank A. Ashworth in lieu of $7,500 bond today on a charge of Negligent homicide in the traffic death of Terry L. Humphries, 3, both of Oakdale.

The boy was struck by a car and killed Wednesday in front of the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Humphries.

Ashworth was arrested shortly after the boy was hit.

Publicity Stalks Arizona Couple

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) Robert and Sherri Finkbine say they didn't want the publicity, but when it came they didn't hide.

"We've associated with a lot of people in the news business," says Finkbine, 31, a school teacher. "We understand its problems better probably than most people."

It was this relationship with the news business that pulled them into a swirl of publicity over Sherri's desire for an abortion to avoid the birth of a child which might be malformed.

When their doctor confirmed that Sherri had taken thalidomide, a drug blamed for deforming thousands of babies, they told a friend in the news business of their plight. They asked anonymity, and got it.

"I thought I was being very noble," Sherri said today. "I thought my story might save other expectant mothers the same experience. I didn't know all this was going to happen."

For a while, the Finkbines remained a mystery couple. Then the hospital canceled the abortion and joined the Finkbines in a futile suit seeking court approval of the operation. Their anonymity was shattered.

The public learned that the mother was Mrs. Finkbine, well-known here as "Miss Sherri," teacher on "Romper Room," a children's television show.

Reporters and photographers trooped to their home in suburban Scottsdale; the phone rang incessantly; letters of advice arrived from throughout the world.

Only when the court refused to guarantee there would be no prosecution if an abortion were performed did they attempt to withdraw. Mrs. Finkbine, 30, had been secluded in a hospital room several days earlier. Her husband became reticent as they began seeking ways to get the abortion done legally—perhaps in another country.

"Any further publicity doesn't help anyone and it is hurting us terribly," said Sherri.

Nonetheless, the Finkbines remain cooperative, although they indicate they won't disclose the time and place when they determine final details about the abortion. The operation is expected to be performed soon. Mrs. Finkbine is two and a half months pregnant and time for undergoing an abortion in safety is running out.

"We've been accused of wanting this attention," she said. "I got a letter from Milwaukee. 'You wanted publicity,' it said.

"Publicity!" she raised her voice. "It's all but cost me my job."

Forestry Lab Funds Approved

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — C. H. Lewis Jr., executive director of the Louisiana Forestry Association, said today U.S. Senate and House Appropriations Committee conferees have approved a $450,000 amendment for initial construction of a Forest Products Utilization Research Laboratory here.

Lewis said Louisiana's congressional delegation notified him of the Monday approval. Both the Senate and House still must approve recommendations of the conferees.

The amendment was sponsored by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss.

Lewis said plans call for a total outlay of $900,000 in building and machinery as a research center for the southern timber region.

Painters Forced To Leave Guests In Building

READING, Pa. (AP)—Felix Orchowski was painting the cornice of a building when something inside a small hole almost pulled his brush from his hand.

Orchowski hurried down the ladder Wednesday and told an unbelieving foreman, Joseph Kowal. Kowal took over and the same thing happened to him.

The foreman pushed a stick into the hole. When he pulled it out it was chewed up. He sprayed ammonia into the hole and while it almost knocked him out it had no effect on the unknown object. Next he tried ether. It didn't work either.

Kowal finally got enough of a glimpse into the hole to find out he was tangling with a family of squirrels. They stayed and he left after an hour and a half of trying to force them out.

No wonder the English keep so cool!
(mix Gordon's Gin in a tall, iced drink–and you will, too!)

The English are not easily fazed, even by summer heat. This national talent was given a cheerful accompaniment in 1769, when Alexander Gordon introduced his remarkable gin. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to his original formula, because one does not tamper with gin of such distinctive dryness and flavour. Try it soon in a tangy Gin & Tonic or Tom Collins. You'll see why, summer and winter, Gordon's Gin is the biggest seller in England, America, and indeed – the world!

Two Scandinavian Nations May Help In Abortion Case

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Scandinavian nations in which abortions are legal—Sweden and Norway—might help solve the pregnancy problems of foreign women such as Mrs. Sherri Finkbine.

Medical spokesmen in Stockholm and Oslo cautioned today there is no blanket ruling. But they said decisions in the cases of foreign women fearful that prenatal use of the drug thalidomide has deformed their babies would be up to examining physicians.

Japan would bar them, though its 14-year-old eugenics law permits abortion for Japanese citizens and foreign residents.

A Welfare Ministry spokesman in Tokyo, Fumihiko Manakata, said an abortion-seeking tourist would be subject to a prison sentence of up to seven years.

Denmark also apparently would be out of bounds.

Dr. Axel Peterson of the Maternal Aid Institution in Copenhagen said a case such as that of Mrs. Finkbine, whose suit for legal approval of an operation was denied by an Arizona court, would be a matter for the institution's special boards of medical, psychiatric and legal experts. And these boards are prevented by law from handling requests of foreigners.

Sweden has allowed legal abortions for seven Swedish women who took thalidomide in the early stages of their pregnancy. X-ray checks had shown two of the babies were deformed, a National Health Board spokesman said, and "in the other five cases the abortions were granted for social, family or health reasons."

As to foreign women, Dr. Karl-Inge Oester of the medical board explained that legal abortion in Sweden may be authorized in cases when a severe illness in the mother could be transferred to the child.

Such cases are decided on what is called eugenic indication, a condition that Stockholm medical experts said may be valid in Mrs. Finkbine's case.

In Oslo, the acting chief of Norway's health directorate, Jon Bjoernson, said Norwegian law has no provision for authorizing an abortion in advance.

As Bjoernson outlined it: A legal abortion can be performed in Norway only on purely medical indications. The physician in charge of the case must decide whether

Liberals Filibuster Satellite System

A Senate debate earlier this week showed that other factions besides the traditionally long-winded southerners are capable of holding a filibuster.

This time, a group of "liberals" led by Senators Kefauver and Morse set out to talk to death a plan to set up a government-regulated, private enterprise venture in the space communications. Oddly enough, the plan was strongly advocated by President Kennedy. But the liberals can't seem to get it through their heads that private enterprise has a place in such a plan at all.

It is ironic, perhaps, that the senators of the same stripe deplore the southerners when they stage a show of unlimited debate in the field of civil rights. Yet the gentlemen of the South this time made it clear that the Morse-Kefauver faction had every right to filibuster to their hearts' content even if their views had little support.

Summed up in simplified terms, the bill would create a new satellite-operating communications corporation that would be organized as follows:

1. Half the stock—selling at $100 per share—would be owned by the general public.

2. The other half would be held by such organizations as the Radio Corporation of America and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

3. The new corporation's operations would be subject to a board of 15 directors, six elected by the private stockholders, six to be named by the participating companies and three appointed by the United States government.

4. The Federal Communications Commission would play a regulatory role in the undertaking.

The liberal opposition claims the bill is a "giveaway" of a function which rightfully belongs to the government. To their socialistic trend of thought, the only way the "people" can have a voice in such a system is through full government control.

In addition, they claim to fear that such a venture would serve to enrich "big interests" as RCA and AT&T. Actually, the big companies would stand to lose money during all the years of experiment and development while the many persons who owned shares of stock would earn dividends. The government would sit in a regulatory capacity as it should. In case of any sort of emergency, our defense and warning systems could take advantage of anything the new means of communication had to offer.

Here is one case where we in the South can say President Kennedy has a good idea. The House passed the bill 354-9. And the liberals in the Senate decided to try and talk satellite communications to death!

Federal Dole Limits Rights Of States

It is a sad paradox that the section of the nation which makes the most logical plea for states' rights draws the most federal money.

Louisiana's Lieutenant Governor C. C. Aycock stressed this at a meeting of Southeastern Association of Tax Administrators. He went one step farther. He also told the group Louisiana had the "dubious distinction" of leading the southern states in money received from the federal government.

In other words, this state, along with several others in the Deep South, is on the federal dole. The politicians seeking state and federal offices do not have to promise the people anything new to endanger our freedoms. All they have to do is promise to continue the same public benefits, and we'll still end up under more federal control.

There is little wonder that the Washington bureaucrats think of some southern states as federal charges. It is in this respect that Washington proceeds to add insult to injury and orders the states to toe the line in the fields of civil rights, reapportionment, price fixing, wage rates and voter qualifications.

Freedom cannot be worked in reverse. Any time a state receives more in federal dollars than it pays in taxes, it may consider itself a ward of Washington.

There are those who say Louisiana is naturally inclined to call for federal handouts because of the "welfare state" ideas of Huey and Earl Long. This does not explain the mystery since both these late political leaders believed in more welfare at the state level.

Federal aid and control makes for an entirely different picture. This delegates power to a central government which should have only limited strength. It must be recalled that the federal government is a creature of the separate states. The states created the federal government; it did not set up the states.

We have reached the point now where the creature is rising above its creators. And the only way the creature can be held at bay is for the people of Louisiana and the South to stop requesting federal loans, grants and handouts.

'Say, Isn't That Our Girl Friend?'

Belated Action In Congress Clears MacArthur Name

By DAVID LAWRENCE

At last, in American history, a sad chapter of seeming ingratitude has been superseded by an act of gratitude. Congress now has passed a resolution tendering to General Douglas MacArthur the thanks of the nation for his distinguished military service to the American people.

So far as the official record is concerned, General MacArthur has been listed since 1951 as an officer removed from all command for alleged insubordination. A committee of Congress investigated at the time, but did not come to any formal conclusion, as obviously a Democratic Congress hesitated to censure the impulsive act of a Democratic president who was miffed by something that could have been handled more gracefully.

IT HAPPENED that General MacArthur answered a letter of inquiry from the Republican leader in the House of Representatives Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, who had asked the General for his opinion on far eastern questions. Military officers can testify freely before Congressional committees as long as they do not disclose military secrets. Yet a letter, which amounted to the same thing as testimony on broad policy problems, prompted the punishment that was meted out. The letter, incidentally, was never intended for publication.

General MacArthur had two commands at the time. He was commander of the allied occupation of Japan, and to this day it is universally agreed he did a wonderful job. He was also commander of the United Nations forces in Korea. Had the American president wished, he could have changed commanders in Korea without disturbing the position of command which General MacArthur held in Japan. Mr. Truman was urged to do so by his own military chiefs in Washington and by some of his cabinet officers but, apparently still resentful over the letter to former House Speaker Martin, chose to strip General MacArthur of all command and bring him home with a public repudiation.

For eleven years now the distinguished General has lived in retirement. Many of the men who served under him have not forgotten his remarkable acts of personal bravery and skillful command, and have felt that the nation should be reminded in a formal way of those contributions. It has been a delicate subject to raise because of the old political controversy. But Representative L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, Democrat, never gave up. He succeeded a few years ago in getting a resolution before a committee of Congress but couldn't somehow get it to the floor for action. This time, however, he was successful. Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee and Speaker John McCormack gave permission to have the resolution brought up. It passed unanimously. Mr. Rivers also had the aid of the Democratic majority leader, Representative Carl Albert of Oklahoma, who had served on General MacArthur's staff during World War II. Senator George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, brought up the measure in the Senate, where it was also unanimously adopted. The resolution reads as follows:

"RESOLVED by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that the thanks and appreciation of the Congress and the American people are hereby tendered to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur in recognition of his outstanding devotion to the American people, his brilliant leadership during the following World War II, and the unsurpassed affection held for him by the people of the Republic of the Philippines which has done so much to strengthen the ties of friendship between the people of that nation and the people of the United States."

In the formal report of the House Armed Services Committee submitted by Representative Rivers to the House, a detailed account of General MacArthur's record was given from the time he graduated from West Point in 1903 at the head of his class. He was the son of Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who also had a distinguished military career.

This correspondent, along with other newsmen covering the war department early in 1917, thought MacArthur, then a major, was one of the most brilliant public relations officers the government had ever had and expressed professional regret when he suddenly announced that he was applying for overseas duty, Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War at the time in the Wilson administration, said to his news conference:

"Watch that young man. He'll be a general soon, and some day he will be Chief of Staff of the Army."

The prophecy came true. Major MacArthur was wounded in the war and, as commander of an infantry brigade, won a string of medals for his bravery in action. Later he did become chief of staff of the U. S. Army. What he did in liberating the Philippines from the Japanese in 1945, together with his remarkable service in the Korean war, are events recent enough for most people in this country to recall.

IT DOES seem unfortunate, however, that a political incident has caused such a long delay in giving full recognition to a brave man who performed a brilliant service for his country in many command posts. At last the record has been set straight, and, fortunately, this comes during the lifetime of the 82 - year - old veteran, who said in his farewell address to Congress in 1951: "Old soldiers never die — they just fade away."

Congress apparently is not willing that in official history the memory of what Douglas MacArthur did for his country should fade away but wants it to remain instead an enduring example of devotion to the nation's service.

Belief That Reds Have Mellowed Not Supported By Acts

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

The soft of heart now steer the country's ship of state.

They parrot the policies of Walt Whitman Rostow, that International Communism has "mellowed", that accommodation with the Kremlin is possible, even desirable.

In a whole series of actions over the last few months, State Department top brass has shown that concessions can be made in virtually any area. They have not been successful, Nikita Khrushchev remains intransigent on the issue of Berlin. The Soviet Union announces that a new series of nuclear tests has been planned.

A FEW of those accommodations:

1. The Administration approved ealier this month the export of radioactive hydrogen to east Berlin, ostensibly for use in medical research. The radioactive tritium — heaviest of three hydrogen isotoes — is used also in bombs.

2. The State Department has dropped curbs on U. S. travel by Soviet "tourists"! Despite abundant evidence that delegations of Red visitors are heavily stocked with intelligence operatives, department rules now permit Red "tourists" to visit the following industrial centers:

Pittsburgh, Detroit, St. Louis, Houston, Dallas, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Charleston, W. Va.; Kalamazoo, Mich., Memphis, Tenn.; Youngstown, O., Hartford, Conn.; Springhill, Mass.; Rochester, New York; Santa Fe, N. M.; Las Vegas Nev.; Albuquerque, N. M.,; and San Diego, Cal.

The restrictions were lifted despite the fact that American tourists in the Soviet Union are severely limited in their travel possibilities. Under - Secretary of State George Ball hopes the U. S. action will persuade the Soviets to relax restrictions on U. S. visitors. But State Department officials say the U. S. will not "unreciprocate" if the Reds fail to come through.

3. Guatemalean President Ydigoras Fuentes, a hard - nosed anti - Communist and time-proven ally, was told curtly that he was not welcome in this country. His propsed State visit was vetoed by State Department "experts" who view him as an "authoritarian.'

The welcome mat is out, however, for Jomo Kenyatta, former leader of Kenya's terrorist Mau Maus.

4. SECRETARY of State Dean Rusk visited Europe, spent only a few minutes in Berlin, and snubbed West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. The East German Radio chortled that Brandt had been slapped down — hard.

5. Administration lobbists labored for continued aid to the Communist states of Pôland and Yugoslavia. U. S. Ambassador George Kennan returned home from Belgrade and threatened to resign if aid was not restored. While Kennan visited Washington, top - ranking aides of Marshal Tito flew to reaffirm the solidarity of International Communism.

6. Roving Ambassador W. Averill Harriman says the Laotian solution he helped draft will work out if only Nikita Khrushchev keeps his word. Soviet record on major treaties: 50 of 52 broken.

7. The Administration labels as "classified" all figures on foreign aid for Communist and pro-Communist nations.

8. Administration lobbyists fight hard against a proposed law that would end free mailing for Communist propaganda in the United States.

9. ALSO opposed by White House aides is the creation of a standing Congressional Committee on Captive Nations. Such a committee, they say, would be "deliberate provocation" to Soviet leaders.

10. For the same reason, the President's proclamation of Captive Nations Week avoided any mention of Soviet imperialism.

Under Umbrellas On The Beach

By JIM BISHOP

The sunbeams bounce off the sea hot and silent. On the beach, the breakers barely make it, collapsing in thunder on the sand. The umbrellas look like hundreds of wild petunias. Women sit under them, streaking unguents on their shoulders; their men doze and bake their bellies in the sand. Solemn children build sand castles; some skip along the edge of the waves; some sit around mother.

Four are sitting around one mother. She has a round, pretty face. She wears a black bathing suit, a floppy straw hat with blue ribbons for tieing and she laughs at what Kevin is saying in her ear. Kevin is two, a wrinkled nose laugher with a figure like a barrel of beer. What he is saying is "Happy do do . . . Happy do do . . ."

MOTHER translates for the others. "He is trying to sing happy birthday to me." The identical blonde twins, 4 years of age, think that Kevin is funny because he can't say "Happy Birthday." The mother is Virginia Lee Frechette, my daughter. She is 25 today. She is rich because, in Charlie, she has the right man and in Pamela and Robin and Jim, 3, and Kevin, 2, plus the baby due within a month, she has the right family.

The refrain of all fathers is "It seems as though it were only yesterday." That isn't true. It seems longer ago than that. I had a Packard 120. Elinor and I were going on a tour of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The baby was six weeks away. We drank gin in Washington and started southwest in the morning with heads like Goodyear blimps.

We got as far as a town called Leesburg. That was all. Finita la mossica. Last stop. All out. There was a big driveway curving off to the right and Elinor got into the hospital and Virginia Lee — the name is an inversion of the town and state — was born in 31 minutes. The doctor said it was a strange delivery. "All that woman kept saying was 'Oh, my aching head'."

NOW it is 25 years later. Some of the old faces are gone; some new ones are here. Five years ago, Elinor, her mother and my mother all made the deep and final bow to life within 85 days. Since then, Ginny has had four babies, Gayle has had one. The tick of the clock is slow and inexorable.

This is an off day for Ginny. Instead of fretting and worrying about the children at home, she is doing it at Ship Ahoy Beach Club. Like most mothers, she automatically watches other little ones frolicking around the swimming pool. Behind the sun glasses, her eyes miss very little.

Carl Fleming comes over in a flaming red shirt to ask her if he can watch the four while she takes a swim. She says no, thanks. The most work she plans for today is to walk around the pool to the soda stand. Other than that, she will sit and look and count herself lucky. I live across the street from Ship Ahoy so I finish some work and hurry over to sit beside my one-time girl friend.

The babies crowd around. They call me "Pop-Pop" and their love for me is built around my boat. They fall over each other trying to ask if we are going on the Away We Go. Yes, I say. Yes, yes. Kevin points at me, falls over my legs, and says: "Bo . . . Bo . . ."

OUR NEW little girls Karen, 9, and Kathleen, 7, both beautiful blondes, help get the babies across the street and all hands, including Mrs. Katherine Rook, our housekeeper, get aboard the boat. There is a big white life raft on the foredeck and all the children sit in it. The boat turns her bows downstream on the Shrewsbury and sails sedately toward Sandy Hook.

I'm on the flying bridge and it is easy to watch all the children in the raft. Also, by turning around, I can see Ginny and Katie Rook and Kelly in the animated chatter of women. Rocky, our black police dog, sits forlornly on the dock watching the boat and crying through his nose. He wants to go, but it is impossible. The dog has been on the boat three times, and each time he gets sea sick before the craft leaves the dock.

The children begin to sing "I'm Popeye the sailor man." When they reach the boop-boop, I make the mistake of hitting the twin horns. The kids almost jump out of their skin laughing. Now, they sing chorus after chorus and, at the proper time, I'm expected to tap the horns. As I go under Highlands Bridge, the bridge tender comes out and glares down at me.

He thinks I'm nuts. I am. Once or twice, one of the little ones almost falls out of the raft and the heart, for the moment, beats in fright. By the time we get back to the dock, Charlie is waiting to kiss his wife happy birthday. "What's new?" he says. She shakes her head. "Nothing," she says. "Just a quiet day at the beach." . . .

Railroad Pension Not Altered

By MARTIN E. SEGAL

Once a railroad worker retires, his pension is not affected by his earnings from other jobs.

This is quite different from Social Security retirement benefits, which are affected by earnings above $1,200 a year.

Mrs. O. P. Youngstown, Ohio, raises a question about past - retirement earnings of a railroad worker. She writes:

"My husband is a railroad yard clerk. He will be 65 his next birthday, at which time he plans to retire. He has in mind a non - railroad job he would like to take after retirement. This job would pay $200 a month. Will this interfere with his railroad pension?"

Not unless he takes the job before he retires.

BEFORE a railroad employee can claim a retirement benefit he must stop all work except self-employment and give up his right to return to railroad service.

If a former railroad worker is working outside the railroad industry but has enough RRB credits for a pension, he must give up his rights to his outside job before he can claim his Railroad Retirement Board pension.

However, once retirement benefits have begun, the retired railroader can accept a job without endangering his pension.

Mrs. R. M. of San Diego, Calif., has another Railroad Retirement question. She writes:

"My husband is retired on a railroad pension. When I reached the age of 65, I was allowed a wife's benefit of $69.90 a month.

"But I am also eligible to draw Social Security benefits on my own account. Now the Railroad Retirement Board has cut off my RRB wife's benefit because I am eligible to draw Social Security.

"Can they do this?"

THE WIFE of a man drawing benefits under the Railroad Retirement System is not entitled to a wife's benefit if she is eligible for a Social Security benefit at least as large as her railroad benefit.

It would appear that Mrs. M. is entitled to a Social Security benefit of at least $69.90 a month, so her railroad wife's benefit is not allowed If her Social Security benefit was less than her railroad entitlement, the Railroad Retirement Board would make up the difference.

However, if Mrs. M. is left a widow, she will be entitled to both benefits — her own Social Security benefit and a widow's benefit from Railroad Retirement Board. Social Security benefits are not offset against Railroad Retirement benefits for widows.

Mrs. B. S. of Newark, N. J. writes:

"I have been working under Social Security since January, 1958, with the exception of approximately three years. I am now 55 and would like to stop working and apply for Social Security benefits when I am 62.

But I was told that I would not be eligible then because I would need a number of quarters during the last five years before I become 62. Is this information correct?

No, the information is not correct. If Mrs. S. has worked in covered employment since 1938 — except for three years —she has paid Social Security taxes for at least 20 years (80 quarters)) She needs only 40 quarters to be fully insured and eligible for retirement benefits without further employment.

Mrs. S. should be eligible for benefits without any additional employment.

MY ANSWER

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Is it possible for a man to live a Christian life without being a hypocrite? L.C.

ANSWER: Of course one may live a Christian life without being a hypocrite. True Christianity is the very opposite of hypocrisy for it is the most real and genuine thing in the world. A Christian is a person who has living within him a supernatural power from a supernatural person. Christ died to save us from our sins but He also lives within the hearts of believers to strengthen them day by day as His own. It is perfectly true that there are hypocrites in the church. Wherever there is something good there is always a counterfeit. We come in contact with counterfeit currency now and then. That does not make us stop using money. So, if there are those who claim to be Christian but who are living as hypocrites it in no way invalidates the Christian profession. The trouble with most of us, even Christians, is that we think of God and Christ and the Holy Spirit as being very far away when, as a matter of fact, they are very near. In the last book in the Bible we find these words of Christ: "Behold I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and sup with him, and he with Me." The sure way to live as a Christian and not as a hypocrite is to have Christ living in our hearts.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

FLY FERTILITY

Regarding fertility, rabbits are pilers compared with flies. Mr. and Mrs. Fly can produce 191 septillion offspring in one summer. Treasury department officials are perhaps the only people capable of appreciating this figure.

Most of the bug killers on the market today will kill flies and other insects on contact. A newcomer, Apholate, is more properly called a chemical sterilant. It causes sterility in house flies which eat it or walk over a treated surface; the flies live but the eggs do not hatch. This compound is not available commercially.

New products along this line always are welcome because insects tend to become highly resistant to all types of insecticides. There is no need for concern, however, as new agents are developed from time to time to keep the super-resistant strains of house flies and mosquitoes from getting the upper hand.

It seems to me there are fewer flies now than there were 5 or 10 years ago. I have no proof for this statement except my own observations. More and more people use space sprays or spray bombs and keep tight fitting screens on all doors and windows.

Picnic areas, parks, and patios are being sprayed routinely and there is a greater tendency to cover garbage cans, cisterns, cesspools, and septic tanks. Property owners don't allow water to accumulate, thus eliminating breeding grounds for other insects.

It is ironical that insects—small as they are—do not fear man. The fly seems to delight in tantalizing us through its ability to hop, skip, and jump just out of reach. We usually associate this pest with filth; we never know where it has been just prior to sitting down on the table or our nose. When it lights on food it certainly takes away our appetite.

Flies were blamed frequently in the past for the transmission of typhoid, paratyphoid, dysentery, and polio. These diseases no longer are common and better sanitary practices undoubtedly helped in their control.

REMOVAL OF POCKETS

J. G. writes: Is there ever complete recovery from diverticulosis without surgery?

REPLY

Yes, because the majority of people with these small pockets in the large intestine are never bothered. Surgery is suggested when several diverticula become infected and reinfected until removal of the colon is the only way to solve the problem. This is the exception, because most of these attacks subside after taking an antibiotic and going on a bland diet.

ACCUMULATED BLOOD

P. M. writes: What is done about a hematoma on a leg, incurred in a basketball injury?

REPLY

A hematoma is a collection of blood under the skin that clots after bleeding stops. Elevate the leg and apply ice packs or cold towels, to bring hemorrhage under control. Use heat thereafter to stimulate the absorption of blood. Several enzyme tablets on the market are said to hasten healing.

SAFE DELIVERY

Mrs. O. G. writes: What is considered the safest way to deliver a baby?

REPLY

The natural way — provided complications do not exist.

SIGHT AFTER SURGERY

N. L. writes: Can a person see good after a cataract operation?

REPLY

Yes, with special lenses, and provided the eyes are normal otherwise.

URGES FREEDOM OF GROWTH

Cotton Council President Speaks

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Public opinion will determine whether free enterprise or agriculture will survive or be enslaved, Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, Tex., president of the National Cotton Council, said today.

He urged those attending the Louisiana Cotton Forum to make a conscious and concerted effort to insure that the opinion of the public "be inclined favorably to the kind of system that stimulates rather than restricts freedom for the growth and development of agriculture and business."

Calling for a grass roots public relations effort toward these ends, he said good public relations consists of conducting yourself so as to merit public support and taking the steps to make sure the public knows and understands the nature of your conduct.

"When we apply this philosophy to the problem of creating a better public understanding of agriculture, a very obvious fact hits us in the face.

"The starting point lies in doing something about the programs that are largely responsible for the sweeping condemnation leveled at agriculture generally. This is the kind of public relations action the public will understand and endorse."

It is heartening, he said, to observe that a considerable segment of agriculture not only recognizes this necessity but is evidencing it in its actions.

He said that when the cotton industry supported the agricultural act of 1958 it backed a program that subordinated short-term interests for the long-range good of cotton and the American people.

"While we recognize the need of a government policy geared to the idea of meeting competition, expanding markets, and expanding production opportunities, we can't expect the government to permanently guarantee our future," the Council president said.

Mrs. Dupriest Recuperating In Texas Hospital

Mrs. Guy Dupriest, who was injured in an automobile accident in Lubbock, Texas, July 26, will remain in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock through this week. However, her condition is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Dupriest, along with her husband, daughter-in-law and grandchild were in the automobile when it collided with another in the downtown section of the city. The other three members of the family received minor injuries.

Mrs. DuPriest suffered four cracked ribs, fractured pelvis and facial injuries.

The accident occurred shortly before the noon hour as the family was en route to the downtown area to pick up the younger DuPriest.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Sr., 4003 Harrison street, Monroe, had taken the younger Mrs. DuPriest and the grandchild, home from Monroe and were spending a few days there before returning to Monroe.

Blames Crews For Train Crash

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An official of the Pennsylvania Railroad blames the derailment of a baseball special which killed 19 persons on the failure of maintenance crews to install enough rail anchors while rehabilitating tracks near Steelton, Pa.

James P. Newell, vice president of operations, said Wednesday the lack of anchors permitted the rails to get out of alignment. A rail anchor is a steel device which clamps on the base of the rail.

Newell said "appropriate disciplinary action" will be taken.

More than 100 were injured when the last three of the nine cars jumped the tracks and tumbled into the Susquehanna River in Steelton late Saturday. The train was carrying baseball fans to a game in Philadelphia between the Phillies and Pittsburgh.

Plan Revived To Harness Steam From Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has revived a plan to harness steam from a plutonium reactor at Hanford, Wash., to produce electric power for the Pacific Northwest.

Four times in the past year the House has voted thumbs down on variations of the project. A Senate House conference committee will have the next say.

The Senate brought the plan back to life, with some changes, in the form of an amendment to a bill authorizing a $232-million construction program for the Atomic Energy Commission. The biggest single item is $50.2 million to complete the Hanford reactor.

The amendment was carried Wednesday by voice vote.

Administration forces tried the same tactic when the AEC bill was before the House last month, but the plan was killed 232 to 163.

Orange Crystals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Orange juice — first squeezed, then canned, then frozen — has reached a new stage in its evolution: crystalization. The juice of 40 oranges makes one pound of spongy crystal reports Chemetron Corp.'s Votato division, maker of equipment to remove moisture from the juice. The pure orange crystals, weighting one - seventh as much as canned juice, can be shipped and stored indefinitely in non refrigerated vacuum - packed cans. To make a glass of juice, just add water.

City Electrical Output Climbs To All-Time High

Electrical production continues to climb to all - time highs at the Monroe power plant, breaking a new one - day record yesterday, manager French L. Smith said today.

The plant produced 49,100 KW shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday as the temperature climbed toward a blistering 100 degrees.

This was 1,000 KW over a previous record established Tuesday between 2 and 3 p.m., according to the Utilities Commission manager.

The plant capacity is 66,500 KW.

But Smith pointed out that with more hot weather ahead, the new plant record is likely to be broken several times before the summer ends.

Legal Rap Cruelest

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Motorist John Arvin's car was hit 106 times by a train but the cruelest blow was a judge's decision.

The first impact by the Monon Railroad freight train left the auto at such an angle to the track that 105 cars of the passing train each hit it.

Arvin was fined $10 and costs for a traffic violation.

Taking Losses for Tax Purposes...

Right now that idea seems to have particular appeal for a substantial number of investors.

Because security prices are generally off from their highs . . .

Because something can be salvaged by savings in taxes . . .

Because there are sound opportunities to change into other stocks—remain fully invested if prices should rise within 30 days—before they can buy back their former holdings.

The real key, of course, is which stocks you should substitute for your present holdings if you decide to sell.

Our Research Department has just tried to supply that key—has put together a list of more than 400 stocks carefully matched for price, yield, type, and quality, which should go a long way toward helping you make sensible substitutions—without disturbing your portfolio balance.

If you'd like a copy of this list—no charge or obligation, of course—just ask.

You can call if you like, or simply mail a postcard marked "Tax Exchange List," to—

Delay In Freeing PWs Explained

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Prince Souphanouvong said today Americans and Filipinos captured by his Pathet Lao forces during the civil war are on their way to Vientiane and will arrive in a few days.

The pro-communist deputy premier said it is a long journey from the remote places where they were held to air strips and this has caused the delay in freeing the prisoners.

"Do not be impatient," he told newsmen. "They are being taken care of."

Souphanouvong, who is acting premier with Prince Souvanna Phouma away, talked with reporters on his return from a two-day visit to his former Khang Khay headquarters in central Laos.

One of the reasons for his mission was to see that the prisoners are released in accordance with the Geneva pacts intended to guarantee Laos' neutrality and independence.

Two Fined In City Court For Theft Of Wallet

Judge W. M. Harper Wednesday fined two persons for theft after they were found guilty in Monroe city court. The action highlighted a brief session of municipal court.

Fined $350 and costs each for theft were two elderly Negroes, Minerva May and Riley Evans, both of 1017½ Rear Texas Avenue, Monroe. The two were convicted for theft of a billfold containing $80 in currency from a West Monroe Negro, Leslie Powell. The theft occurred earlier this week.

In other actions, James Dawkins, Negro, 1213 South McGuire street, was fined $50 and L. V. Strickland, 1601 Washington street, both in Monroe, $350 and costs for battery. Dawkins was charged with using a stick on Selina Dawkins, while Strickland was found guilty of use of a knife on Annie Johnson.

Fined on weapons charges were Eddie Finley, Negro, 606 Benjamin street, Monroe, $350 and costs; and Wilbert Leo Walker, Jr., F-18A Foster Homes, $100 and costs.

A Harvey, La., man O'Dell Nichols, was released on an unauthorized use of a vehicle charge after payment of the costs of court.

Ross LaDart, 403 Audubon street, West Monroe, was fined $15 and costs for reckless driving. A lesser charge against him was nolle prossed.

Five persons were fined for public drunkenness; six for disturbing the peace; one for public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest; two for escaping from an arresting officer; and one each for failure to yield the right-of-way and improper muffler.

Four persons were sentenced to the parish penal farm for 90 days.

U.S. Army Defies Reds, Sends Copter Over Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States Army today defied a Soviet warning and sent two helicopters over East Berlin.

The helicopters crossed the border four-to-five times each and flew as far as Marx Engels Platz, about a mile from the border.

All the flights were registered at Berlin's four-power air safety center and the Russian controller at the center protested the flights, informed sources said.

But the Russians did not—as they did last Monday—threaten to shoot the helicopters down, the sources said.

The Army sent the helicopters across the border as Communist East German newspapers demanded that the West give up its air corridors to Berlin.

The new demand came as the Communists appeared to be stepping up pressure toward a new Berlin crisis to coincide with the first anniversary of their anti-refugee wall.

The newspaper National Zeitung accused the West of allowing "aggressive gangs of all shades to misuse the airways." The Communist youth paper Junge Welt said there had been "unscrupulous misuse" of the corridors.

Moscow radio said Wednesday night that East Germany would take control of all access routes to Berlin under separate Soviet-East German treaty. It did not say when.

Western diplomats took this and East German leader Walter Ulbricht's trip to Russia to mean that Communists were planning a new showdown timed for the Aug. 13 anniversary.

The broadcast said the whole territory of East Germany would be "absolutely liberated," providing East German control over all access routes to a "free, demilitarized city" of West Berlin.

After stories last May that the sergeant had vanished from Vienna with a woman he registered there as his wife, Mrs. Hareld said she had not recently heard from her husband.

"My plight began when my husband died (in 1938) and left me with all those children," she said.

Radar Eyes Of Jet

MONTREAL (UPI) — The radar weather eye of a modern jet airliner constantly scans the meteorological conditions 150 miles ahead, outlining them on a radar scope at the flight deck, according to the International Air Transport Association. This allows the captain to adjust his course to avoid uncomfortable weather patches.

At present, there is no boat landing for residents on the west side of the Ouachita River.

"A landing is certainly needed," points out Chamber President Eugene Scott, "because of the high degree of interest in water sports.

"With a landing on the D'Arbonne and one at the I-20 bridge, the needs of West Monroe citizens would be met."

TELEVISION NOTES

Patty Takes On Soap Opera Job

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Nearly eight years ago, Patty McCormack dazzled Broadway as a child murderess in "The Bad Seed" — and one would hardly expect to find her in that lowly art form, a television soap opera.

Yet that is where she is, a new regular of NBC-TV's daily weeper, "Young Dr. Malone."

One's first impulse is to lament that, like many child stars who have created unforgettable stereotypes, such as Shirley Temple and Margaret O'Brien, she may have fallen flat on her career. And it is tempting to wish she would do with her new job what architect Frank Lloyd Wright suggested to officials after a look at Pittsburgh, namely "Abandon it."

To this viewer, however, who watched her Wednesday and at other times on "Malone," there is an admirable practicality, professionalism and lack of affectation about her decision to take the part.

There is a reason for everything. And one may assume that Miss McCormack, now in her late teens, took the role for the usual reasons that one accepts come-down jobs. She is also at the awkward age for an actress who does not play sexpots. Whatever the reason, she had the sense to know an actress is not an actress unless she is acting.

In "Malone," she plays Lisha Koda, a child born out of wedlock and later legally adopted. And Wednesday, as always, she made the program seem far better than it deserves. She looked after a little girl at night and gave the show a sense of acceptable tone.

When she is not on, it falls apart as usual, with those soap opera hams, who, like most of our series heroes, are full of humanity and compassion and understanding — full of everything, in fact, except the ability to act.

FIRST DUTY TO HIMSELF

George Bernard Shaw once said something to the effect that an artist's first duty to himself is to provide his table with three square meals a day. And Miss Shirley Booth, as NBC-TV's "Hazel," has shown that a fine performer can be an asset to any format.

Miss McCormack, since "The Bad Seed," has had a video series, "Peck's Bad Girl," which went nowhere; some movies, which, except for the film version of "The Bad Seed," did likewise from the standpoint of establishing her as a star; and has had to scrap for good parts.

But she is still acting. It has never hurt a Shakespearean delineator to play music halls; it has never injured a schooled thespian to work burlesque or county fairs. They are all the theatre, and they all have lessons to offer. Better parts will come for Miss McCormack, and she will be a better performer for her present experience.

Youth Drowns In 'Shallow' Pond

GREENVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Richard Earl Blain, 17, drowned Wednesday when he stepped into a hole while wading across a pond.

The Greenville high school senior and his companions had thought the pond was about waist-deep.

ALBANY

tion to negotiations the departure of King and his corps of integration strategists.

King agreed with the President on negotiations. The integration leader, after a week behind bars, said Kelley was offering "an excuse and another evasive scheme to avoid negotiating."

"I have always indicated publicly and privately that I would go so far as to leave Albany temporarily as long as good faith negotiations had begun," King said.

The impasse between city officials and integration leaders dates to last November, shortly before the mass demonstrations erupted. More than 1,200 arrests have been made since mid-December.

Kelley, a moderate on racial issues, worked tirelessly last December and in the weeks following in an effort to peacefully resolve the problems. At one point, he openly broke with staunchly segregationist commissioners.

The break came over the commission's refusal to accept federal funds for a local project, saying the federal money might carry some desegregation strings. And the mayor tried unsuccessfully to persuade the commissioners to a conciliatory course early in the dispute.

The mayor has expressed concern over possible loss of industries and other adverse economic effects of the prolonged racial conflict.

Albany, a sprawling city with a substantial segment of silent moderates, draws much of its economic sustenance from two federal installations — Turner Air Force Base and the U.S. Marine Corps Supply Center.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Michigan farmers have sent 5,000 pounds of whole milk powder to help feed some of the thousands of victims of the long French-Algerian war.

Gavin Steps Out As Paris Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Jumping General" James M. Gavin has resigned after a relatively short stint as ambassador to Paris and President Kennedy will name his successor shortly.

Announcing this Wednesday, the White House made public a July 9 letter from Gavin to Kennedy seeking relief for "compelling personal reasons" and a July 31 "Dear Jim" reply from the President voicing "great regret."

But it was no secret in Washington that Kennedy and the forthright former paratrooper appointed in February 1961, did not see eye to eye on U.S. nuclear policy towards France. Nor did Gavin make notable headway in Paris in swinging President Charles de Gaulle toward the U.S. view.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Gavin's resignation would become effective upon the nomination and Senate confirmation of his successor, whose name is to be submitted to the French government soon.

Charles E. Bohlen was reported in line for the post. "Chip" Bohlen, 57, a career diplomat, had a Paris assignment before becoming ambassador to Russia in 1953-57. He now serves in Washington as a senior adviser on East-West affairs.

U.S. officials said Gavin was anxious to return to private life by September to clear up personal and financial problems. They understood he would resume the presidency of Arthur D. Little Inc., an industrial and engineering research firm at Cambridge, Mass., which they said he left at considerable sacrifice in accepting the ambassadorship.

In Paris, Gavin's salary was listed at $27,500 plus $25,650 for expenses including servants and entertaining. Like other major West European capitals, the Paris job has a reputation for requiring heavy spending by an envoy beyond his government pay and independently well-to-do men have often been sent there. One official estimated the Paris ambassadorship costs around $85,000 a year, or some $30,000 above the official compensation.

Archer's bond was set at $3,000 and Patterson's $2,000.

WINN, JACKSON

Fires Break Out In Two Parishes

WINNFIELD (Special) — An outbreak of 17 small forest fires has been reported in Jackson and Winn Parish areas.

The fires have broken out in 17 different locations in northern Winn Parish and southeast Jackson Parish causing limited damage to stands of small trees.

Forest fire - fighters have extinguished the blazes within 15 to 30 minutes after being notified. But Ed Grigg, forestor for Continental Can Corp. said, "The series of small fires could have developed into large fires if they hadn't been put out quickly."

Grigg said the fires usually started in areas with small trees, and before being extinguished, the fire generally destroyed about a half-acre of the sapings.

Tuesday, Grigg said eight fires had started between 5 and 6 p.m. within a mile of each other.

Because of the pattern and because the fires break out in stands of small trees, Grigg believes the blazes to be deliberately set.

Continental Can reported it had nine fires on their holdings, Olin Mathieson had two, Tremont Lumber Co., two, Davis Brothers Lumber Co., two, and two fires on private holdings were reported.

Seeks To Replace Rep. Whitten With Negro

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Attorney William Higgs of Jackson plans to ask the U.S. House of Representatives to oust Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., and seat a Negro, Merrill Lindsey, in his place.

Failing in that, Lindsey's supporters would seek another election with all persons voting who are 21 and have fulfilled residence requirements.

Whitten, a conservative, recently won the Democratic nomination for re-election, defeating Rep. Frank Smith, an administration friend, and Lindsey.

Higgs, a white native of Mississippi and a Harvard graduate, claims that if Negroes had been allowed to vote, Lindsey would have been nominated.

In affidavits to be filed with the House, Higgs said he plans to invoke section 2 of the 14th amendment.

This section provides that each house shall be the judge of the qualification of its members, and that if voting rights are denied, the representation in the chamber shall be reduced in proportion to the number of qualified voters disfranchised.

The effect of the application of this section, Higgs said, would reduce Mississippi's representation in the House from five to three representatives until the state allows all citizens of 21 or over to vote.

Womack Named To Commission

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis Wednesday announced his appointment of the three members of the new state commission which will supervise the grants in aid program.

They are Sen. E. W. Gravolet, Pointe a la Hache, vice chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on segregation; Rep. James Leake of West Feliciana Parish, and Rep. Lantz Womack of Franklin Parish.

The new three-man Louisiana Financial Assistance Commission as it is named, will have power to issue up to $20 million in bonds if necessary for expanded state assistance.

Grants in aid give public school students the "freedom of choice" administration leaders designed to continue either at desegregated public schools or go to private, nonsectarian schools which are segregated.

Under this system, the state money would follow the student.

Three Persons Hurt Wednesday In 2 Accidents

Three persons received minor injuries in accidents in the Twin Cities late Wednesday. Two of the injuries were suffered in a two-car collision at the intersection of Olive and North Second streets.

The driver of one of the vehicles was ticketed for running a stop sign.

Injured were Margaret Marie Smith, 20, 1006 South 9th street, and Mrs. Woody Smith, 41, same address; and Mrs. W. H. Dickerson, 50, 900 South 9th street, all of Monroe.

The two Smith women were injured when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another, driven by Ernest C. Tillman, 17, 212 Crosley street, West Monroe. The younger Smith woman was driving one of the vehicles.

The Tillman youth, who told officers he could not see a stop sign regulating traffic on Olive street, was ticketed for running the sign. Tillman told officers he did not see the sign because of a large truck that had blocked his view.

Both of the women were taken to the Wright - Bendel Clinic for treatment of bruises and abrasions.

The third injury in traffic accidents Wednesday occurred when an automobile driven by Sarah J. Dickerson 17, 900 South Ninth street, Monroe, going south on North Fourth street, collided with another driven by Nick A. Volpert, 49, 2225 Hill street, Alexandria. The accident occurred near the intersection of Pine and North Fourth Streets.

A passenger in Miss Dickerson's vehicle, Mrs. W. H. Dickerson, suffered minor injuries.

Planes Almost Made Tragic News

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) sought today to pinpoint its own "human error" that caused two jet airliners carrying 184 persons to pass dangerously close to each other over central Kansas.

The planes, a Trans World Airlines Convair 880 and an American Airlines Boeing 707, were racing toward each other at a combined speed of 1,200 miles an hour Tuesday until the TWA pilot veered his aircraft to the right to avoid a head-on collision.

The two planes passed within a distance of 400 yards.

The FAA said its radar control center south of here failed to issue instructions for one of the planes to detour off course, setting up the situation which could have led to the worst catastrophe in aviation history.

A collision at that altitude (33,000 feet) almost certainly would have surpassed aviation's worst disaster, the aerial collision of a United Air Lines DC8 and a TWA super constellation over New York City Dec. 16, 1960, which killed 134 persons.

New Committee Elected Tonight

Election of a new district committee is slated to be held tonight at a meeting of the central district committee of the Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Westminister Recreation Building, just off Forsythe Avenue.

W. W. Stevens, chairman of the committee, has termed the meeting "very important."

In addition to the election of new committee members, the group will map plans for the new program year, which begins Sept. 1.

Couple Indicted For Murder

OBERLIN, La. (AP) — The Allen Parish Grand Jury has indicted Abel Ortego, 45, of nearby Elton and his wife Anita, 29, on charges of murder in the slaying of Gerald D. Fontenot, 19, also of Elton.

Authorities said both Ortego and his wife admitted killing the youth June 23. His nude, sexually-mutilated body was found in a canal near Kinder June 24.

The Ortegos were arrested a week later by sheriff's officers investigating the rape of a 12-year-old Elton girl.

State Drivers Must Bone Up On New Rules

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — Louisiana drivers today had some new highway regulations to bone up on, all part of an omnibus highway regulatory act passed by the 1962 legislature.

The new traffic laws, which went into effect at noon Wednesday, did not lower speed limits. But they called for signaling before changing lanes and keeping right except when passing or turning off multi-lane highways.

They also threw out the old regulation which allowed a driver to go through a red light after first stopping and finding the way clear. Drivers must now wait for the green light.

Right turns on a red light, formerly permissible, also are prohibited now unless specifically permitted by a sign.

"These new highway traffic laws will give Louisiana the most up-to-date traffic regulations in the nation," said Col. Thomas Burbank, director of public safety.

He said they were the result of two year's work by a number of agencies and groups. "The last general revision of our highway regulations was in 1928, and we have long needed some changes," he added.

Burbank said speed limits for cars remained 60 m.p.h. on two-lane roads and 65 m.p.h. on multi-lane roads. But the maximum speed for trucks was raised from 45 to 50 m.p.h.

For one vehicle towing another, he noted, the limit was 45. The same limit was applied to the towing of house trailers.

The public safety director warned that drivers who did not move into a right-hand lane to allow another vehicle to pass or who poked along in the left-hand lane were liable to arrest.

The new regulations hold that a change of lanes on a multi-lane highway will be considered a "turn" requiring the same signal as a turn.

"After this, when drivers move from one lane to another they should signal in the same way they do for a turn," Burbank explained.

It also will be a violation for a vehicle to cross a solid yellow line in the middle of the road when it is placed toward the side on which it is traveling. The only exception is when the driver is turning left.

"These solid lines," Burbank said, "are painted on the highway to signal that passing into the left side of the road is dangerous."

JFK Uses Back As Barometer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presdient Kennedy has a built-in foul-weather barometer—his back.

The subject came up Wednesday, amidst laughter, at his news conference.

A reporter, noting that it had been some time since there had been a report on the President's health, asked:

"How is your aching back?"

Said Kennedy with a broad grain: "Well, it depends on the weather, political and otherwise. It's very good today."

All-Star Reject 'Mombo' Gets Year's 4th No-Hitter

Monbouquette Boston Pride; Yanks Win 2

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Who says the art of pitching is dead? This is the major leagues' greatest season for no-hit no-run games in 45 years.

As Casey Stengel would say, just look it up.

The latest no-hitter by Bill Monbouquette of the Boston Red Sox Wednesday night in Chicago was the fourth in the majors this season.

You have to go back to the deadball days of 1917 to find a year when as many as four different pitchers threw no-hitters. (There were six that year.)

Of course, there were four no-hitters in 1951, but two of them were pitched by Allie Reynolds, and another, by Bob Feller, actually was a no-hit, One-run game.

MISSED PERFECT GAME

Monbouquette, 25-year-old righthander from Medford, Mass., hurled his 1-0 masterpiece against the Chicago White Sox and missed a perfect game only because he walked Al Smith in the second inning.

Oddly, Monbouquette had been knocked out of the box in his four previous starts and had not pitched a complete game since June 29. He had been dropped from the American League All-Star staff because of his ineffective pitching during the past month.

It was a pressure-packed game. The Red Sox did not score for "Mombo" until the eighth inning when Lu Clinton singled with two out following hits by Jim Pagliaroni and Pete Runnels. Clinton also helped Monbouquette defensively by leaping against the wall to grab Charley Maxwell's bid for a hit in the second.

Early Wynn, bidding for his 298th victory, was the loser.

The season's three earlier no-hitters were pitched by Bo Belinsky of the Angels, Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers and Earl Wilson, Monbouquette's Red Sox team mate.

While Monbouquette was making the big news of the day, the situation atop both league standings was status quo.

The New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 6-4 and 5-2 in 11 innings, and the Los Angeles Angels remained six games behind them by beating the Cleveland Indians twice, 2-1 and 8-4 in 10 innings. The Detroit Tigers also swept the Kansas City Athletics, 6-5 and 9-1; and the Minnesota Twins beat the Baltimore Orioles, 3-1.

In the National League, the two top contenders both lost. The Pittsburgh Pirates walloped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-1; and the Chicago Cubs edged the San Francisco Giants, 3-2 in 10 innings. The Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1; the Milwaukee Braves shut out the Houston Colts, 3-0, and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Mets, 11-9.

FORD WON 11TH

John Blanchard's three-run homer in the 11th gave the Yankees their nightcap victory before 48,147 fans, largest crowd ever to watch a professional sports event in Washington. The hit broke up a 2-2 duel between Whitey Ford and Dave Stenhouse. The triumph was Ford's 11th.

In the opening game, the Senators made four errors in the third inning to sabotage starter Bennie Daniels and help the Yankees get off to a 6-1 lead. Rookie Jim Bouton pitched a seven-hitter for his fifth victory. Bud Zipfel hit a Washington homer.

Dean Chance pitched a five-hitter for the Angels' opening win over Cleveland, losing a shutout on John Romano's ninth-inning homer. Los Angeles scored four runs in the 10th inning of the nightcap, breaking a 4-4 tie when Ruben Gomez of the Indians balked home a run. Bob Botz was the winner in relief.

TIGERS WON TWIN BILL

Detroit capitalized on 20 bases on balls and four nightcap errors by Kansas City to sweep a twin bill. The Tigers rallied for three runs in the ninth to beat Granny Hamner in the opener. Al Kaline hit a Detroit homer. Rookie Howie Koplitz pitched a seven-hitter to win the second game, yielding a homer to Norm Siebern.

Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat scattered nine hits and drove in the tie-breaking run in the 11th to beat Robin Roberts and the Orioles.

In the NL, Bob Friend pitched an eight-hitter for his 12th win as the Dodgers committed three errors. Bill Mazeroski hit a Pittsburgh homer and John Roseboro hit for the Dodgers' only run.

George Altman's two-run homer in the 10th inning and Don Cardwell's clutch relief pitching earned the Cubs their win over the Giants, who lost their fourth straight game. Billy O'Dell was the victim of Altman's blast. Cardwell retired the last two hitters in the 10th to save the win for Bob Buhl.

O'TOOLE THREW FIVE-HITTER

Jim O'Toole held the Cardinals to five hits and Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer as the Reds scored their 13th victory in 14 games. Robinson's homer was his fourth in the last five games.

Bob Shaw of Milwaukee pitched an eight-hitter against the Colts for his third shutout of the season. The game was enlivened by a bat-throwing tantrum by Norm Larker of the Colts after he had been tossed out of the game for protesting a called strike.

Don Demeter hit a two-run homer and Tony Gonzalez collected four hits in Philadelphia's 18-hit attack against the Mets. Frank Thomas hit two New York homers, one with the bases loaded.

TO KEEP NO-HITTER

'No More Curves' Was 8th Inning Monbouquette Call

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (AP)—"I said to myself in the eighth inning—just keep going, and don't throw any more curves.

"Nellie Fox was the man I was afraid of. He never strikes out."

That's the capsule description given by William Charles (Billy) Monbouquette of his no-hitter Wednesday night that gave the Boston Red Sox a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. He nearly had a perfect game, permitting only one base runner on a walk.

The sturdy right-hander, mainstay of the Boston pitching staff for the last two years but a dubious quality in his previous four starts, was the center of wild commotion in the Red Sox dressing room. He took it all in stride.

"At the start I was throwing a lot of curves but at the end it was all fast balls and sliders.

"Sure, it was a thrill. Sure it was the best game I ever pitched."

The game ended on a dramatic note. With one out Fox batted for Early Wynn, the ancient White Sox star who was seeking his 298th major league victory.

Monbo, as his teammates call him, got Fox on a tricky grounder to third baseman Frank Malzone.

Up came Luis Aparicio.

With the count two strikes and no balls, Aparicio apparently swung for the third strike and final out. Umpire Bill McKinley ruled that he had not "broken his wrist" as the baseball phrase goes, and hence it wasn't a strike. The crowd booed.

But the next pitch was a swinging strike, clean and simple and the game was over.

Monbouquette jumped high into the air and fell to the ground. The Red Sox players swarmed all over him.

In the dressing room Monbo had no complaints on McKinley's call.

"It was close," was all he would say.

He was conscious of the fact it was a no hitter all the way.

"No one said anything on the bench of course, (it is baseball superstition not to mention such a fact), but believe me I kept thinking about it," he said.

In his previous four starts, Monbouquette pitched 10 2-3 innings and gave up 17 runs.

But it was different this time. He was the complete master and in the opinion of manager Pinky Higgins, pitched "the finest game I have ever seen in the majors."

For Wynn the defeat was the bitter taste of frustration with an extra dose of acid thrown in.

Wynn, 42 years old, not only saw his performance go for naught but didn't get a baseball he had his heart set on. He had five strikeouts and this put him one ahead of Lefty Grove and in eighth place on the all major league list with 2,272.

"But somebody got the ball that did it, darn it," said Wynn.

As for Monbo, it was all triumph and glory.

The husky, 25-year-old who had not pitched a complete game since June 29 and whose last win was July 8, struck out seven. After he walked Al Smith in the second inning, Monbouquette retired the last 22 batters in order, winding up his sterling performance with his dramatic strikeout of Aparicio.

The White Sox hit only seven flies to the outfield and the closest one to a hit was Charlie Maxwell's second inning drive which right fielder Lu Clinton caught near the foul line. Sherman Lollar's fly into short right center field in the fifth inning was grabbed by second baseman Billy Gardner for another fine play.

OUT FOR SEASON

Blood Disorder Sidelined Davis

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — All-America halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse, the 1961 Heisman Trophy winner, is suffering a blood disorder that is expected to keep him from playing pro football this season with the Cleveland Browns.

The 22-year-old, 212-pounder who erased the great Jim Brown's yard-gaining records for the Orangemen, has been in Evanston since Monday. He was to have played with the college All-Stars against the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night.

Art Modell, Cleveland president, flew to Chicago Wednesday, and after conferring with doctors, said in a statement:

"At this moment it appears almost certain that Ernie will not be able to play for the Browns this season. The doctors at Evanston Hospital are still completing tests but have diagnosed his condition as a blood disorder requiring extended treatment and rest. The long range future depends on those treatments."

The disorder, Modell said, was not contangious or infectious and presented no danger to the All-Stars with whom Davis has been in training for three weeks.

Davis was the No. 1 choice of the Washington Redskins who got first pick this winter in the National Football League player draft. Washington traded him to Cleveland for veteran speedster Bobby Mitchell and the Brown's No. 1 draft selection, Leroy Jackson of Western Illinois.

Coach Paul Brown said at the Browns' summer training camp in Hiram, Ohio, that the loss of Davis is a big blow.

"But, of course, the health of the boy is the main thing," he added. "We had planned heavily on Ernie for the 1962 season and his loss just goes to show how easily your off season plans can go berserk."

"We expect to take Ernie to a Cleveland hospital possibly Friday where our team physician, Dr. Victor Ippolito, and appropriate specialists can supervise additional tests and set up a course of treatment.

"I visited Ernie and he looks and feels fine. In fact, he said he felt well enough to get out and play in the All-Star game.

"Ernie's recovery is the only thing that really matters to all of us, and everything possible will be done to speed it. We will miss him greatly."

Beste, the fifth-seeded junior, Wednesday defeated Henry Fields, Athens, Ga., 8-6, 7-5. But he lost in doubles play. He and John Pryor, Houston, Tex., 6-1, 6-3, lost to Albert Carrerro and Leo Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

Folley Awarded Close Decision In Jones Match

DENVER (AP) — Heavyweight Zora Folley pounded out a close 10-round unanimous decision Wednesday night over Doug Jones, second-ranking light heavyweight contender from New York City. Folley weighed 196½, Jones 180½. There were no knockdowns.

The Chandler, Ariz., title contender, third ranking heavyweight, pounded Jones into the ropes in the final round and shook him just before the final bell. But that was as close as either came to a knockdown.

Referee Ray Keech scored the fight 47-45 for Folley, matching the vote of one judge. The other judge had it 47-46 for the Arizonan. The Associated Press scored it 47-45, also for Folley.

Shreveport's Juniors Gain State Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shreveport will play the winner of the Baton Rouge-New Orleans playoff for the Louisiana American Legion Baseball title in a best-of-three series starting Monday.

Baton Rouge meets New Orleans tonight in New Orleans for the south Louisiana legion crown. If Baton Rouge should win, it would force a playoff between the two Saturday night.

Shreveport won the north Louisiana legion tournament Wednesday night by beating Lake Charles 6-2 at Shreveport after Lake Charles forced a playoff by topping Shreveport 6-3.

In the second game, Shreveport clinched it with 4 unearned runs in the third inning on 3 singles and 4 Lake Charles errors.

Lake Charles went ahead 4-1 in the first game with 3 runs in the fifth inning, 2 of them unearned.

At New Orleans, Baton Rouge advanced to the finals Wednesday night by edging Gretna 2-1. Joe Moock scored both runs for Baton Rouge, the first in the third inning on a single and the second in the fifth frame when he tagged up after a fly out.

Gene Still Has Plane Tickets

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Gene Conley of the Boston Red Sox undoubtedly has a nomadic streak in him. Only a little thing like not having a passport prevented him from flying to Israel last week when he went AWOL from the team.

"I've still got the plane ticket," said the 6-8 Conley in an interview in his Chicago hotel room. "But I'm going to cash it in."

He smiled: "The money will help pay my fine" estimated at $2,000.

LIGHT-HEAVY TITLE

Kearns Talking Moore-Clay Bout With Swede In Offing

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack (Doc) Kearns, the old medicine man who concocted the first million boxing gate, came up today with what he is certain will be another.

Louisville, according to the good doctor, already has tentatively offered a million for a light heavyweight title bout between veteran Archie Moore and Cassius Clay. But Doc, who as Moore's manager has more than somewhat to say about the match, thinks that Los Angeles likely may outbid Clay's home town.

"And if one or the other of them doesn't get on the stick," observed Kearns, "they both may blow it because Ingemar Johansson is making attractive gestures for a bout with Moore in Europe either in October or November."

The amazing part of this whole bit is not that Moore, at his "ancient" age and owning only the light heavyweight title of the world in California, can attract these kind of box car figures. For he still is an attractive proposition at anybody's box office and the natural "feud" which would result when he counters the loquacious young Clay's buildup remarks would make this one a bout well worth seeing.

The amazing part is that Doc, whose sprightly mien and twinkling eyes belie the fact that he will be 80 this month, well may add another million dollar gate to his collection.

Maybe not so startling, at that. Beacuse, after all, the old medicine man invented the first one 'way back in 1921 when he sent Jack Dempsey against Georges Carpentier, the French "orchid man." And he also was the moving force behind the second one, when Dempsey fought Luis Angel Firpo, the "wild bull" of the Pampas.

But Doc is not concerned with past history. He wants to make something new.

"Actually, this would be a better bout than the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston thing," he shrugged, adjusting a gray silk tie on his natty button-down blue-striped shirt. "They're two dull guys who never have much to say; can't talk. They won't contribute much to the buildup they will need."

But Moore and Clay — plus Kearns — would indeed be something else again.

"Both of these boys can talk real good," Doc explained, a fact which needs little substantiation. "We'd put the Patterson-Liston thing in the shade."

They might, at that. For when these three musketeers got finished sopping up the headlines the heavyweight duo might be lucky to obtain a paragraph.

Moore, with Doc handling the reins in the background, always has contributed deft publicity movements. Clay is a cocky young gentleman who somewhere along the way would be unable to refrain from commenting on the age of the elderly mongoose. It wouldn't be long until the feud was real.

"There is a syndicate of millionaires backing Clay," said Kearns. "We've been dickering here and there and they have guaranteed a million including television, radio and motion pictures. We'd have to arrange the right kind of a theater deal. But either those folks, or those in Los Angeles who are interested, will have to move so we could put it on before mid-October."

Otherwise, the pond-hopping Doc will "aviate" to Europe and send old Arch against Johansson.

"But first I'd like to get in Clay," he finished. "It could be the greatest ballyhoo fight in recent years. A sure million bucks."

Don't bet against it, either. When it comes to ballyhoo, which means sure-fire box-office, the roving octogenarian never has had a peer.

SEE POOR SEASON

Louisiana Urging Liberal Duck Law

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A nesting survey by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, presented to the Mississippi Flyway Council, indicates a reduction of as much as 17 per cent in the fall flight of waterfowl.

Larry Gale, chief of the Missouri Fish and Game Department, said Wednesday some states are talking of curtailing the duck season and others are talking of not having any season because of the small duck population.

The council will take no action on the many reports and recommendations made to it until Friday's executive session. Then it will make a recommendation to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service about the duck season.

A trustee of Ducks Unlimited, Ed Reeves of Evansville, Ind., gave the council a report of the duck situation based on his tour of Canada. He gave a more favorable picture of the duck situation, indicating a good late hatch was possible.

Gale said last year was a poor duck year and the mallard duck population is particularly low. He added redheads and canvasbacks also are in low supply.

There is some talk, Gale said, of a special blue-wing teal and scaup season because they are more plentiful.

Wildlife representatives from Louisiana made a strong pitch for more liberal duck hunting seasons and bag limits.

Richard Yancey, assistant director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, has asked the council for a 50-day season with a bag limit of four ducks.

E. R. McDonald of Newellton, chairman of the state commission, urged a liberalization in the duck laws.

Last year's season was 19½ days, with a bag of three ducks. It was generally unpopular with Louisiana duck hunters and duck stamp sales fell from 106,000 to 46,000.

Charles Bosch, executive secretary of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, a statewide private citizen's organization, told the council that Louisiana hunters felt discriminated against and urged revision of waterfowl regulations.

Graham Calls Stars Best In 5 Years

Coach Stamps College Aces Okay For Pros

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (AP) — Taut and eager, the College All-Stars are ready for their football game against the Green Bay Packers Friday night before a crowd of 75,000 at Soldier Field.

Says Coach Otto Graham of the collegians:

"Physically the Packers won't push us around. I just hope we won't make any mental errors."

The Packers, National Football League Champions, are a formidable club—"one of the best of all time," in Graham's view.

But the 1962 edition of the All-Stars, even with Ernie Davis of Syracuse sidelined, have much to recommend them.

They have John Hadl of Kansas, a talented quarterback; Ron Bull of Baylor, who is expected to step into the spot vacated by Davis; Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State, a pin point passer; Jimmy Saxton of Texas, an explosive runner, and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, a powerful line smasher.

"And they're the hardest working squad I've seen in my five years of coaching in this game," says Graham.

The loss of Davis was a severe blow. He is in bed with a blood disorder that may keep him from playing at all this year with the Cleveland Browns.

The game is the 29th in the series sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and will be televised and broadcast (ABC) starting at 8:45 p.m. EST.

The Packers are clear cut favorites, but in his first job of coaching here Graham pulled a big upset when his collegians beat the Detroit Lions 35-19. Graham figures his present team has the potential, and that it learned a lot last week in losing a practice game to the Chicago Bears, 24-7.

"We got the stuffing kicked out of us by the Bears, and we realized then and there that we had to go to work," said Graham.

The focus will not be entirely on the collegians and the stars they are sending up to professional ranks both in the NFL and the American Football League. There will be close attention paid to Paul Hornung, the great Packer back recently released from army duty.

All indications point to an open game.

Graham won't name his starting quarterback yet, but he said "if we use the spread much it has to be Hadl."

From his hospital bed Davis sent words of encouragement to his teammates.

"The squad has lots of spirit and its confidence is growing," he said. "I think if the All-Stars get off to a quick start, it will be a good game."

RESTRAINED by their manager Harry Craft, the Houston Colts' Al Spangler, left, and Norm Larker, center, argue with plate umpire Augie Donatelli, partially shown, in eighth inning of game with Braves at Milwaukee Wednesday night. The argument started over a called strike by Donatelli on Larker. Spangler, who had singled, ran from first base to help his teammate in the protest. Both were ejected from the game. Braves won, 3-0. AT BATON ROUGE TONIGHT

East's Big Line Could Set Up Win For Prep All-Stars

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — East meets West tonight and has the favorite's role in the Louisiana High School All - Star football game.

East Head Coach James (Fuzzy) Brown of Baton Rouge's Istrouma High will have a 244-pound defensive line giving him the edge.

West Head Coach Racer Halstead of Tallulah will probably rely on his passing talent since his offensive line averages only 207 pounds.

But current hot weather also figured to make passing popular on both sides to conserve players' strength. It also appeared to make liberal substitutions likely.

The 25th edition of the prep grid classic starts at 8 p.m. in Baton Rouge Memorial Stadium. It is a feature of the Louisiana High School Coaches Association summer clinic, which runs through Friday at the LSU campus.

Halstead is assisted by coaches Mike Lyle of Oberlin and Jack Doland of Sulphur. Brown's aides are C. G. Felder of Kentwood and Eddie Harrelson of Jennings.

Each side has 32 players selected from 1962 graduating classes and representing the top of last year's all-state and all - district selections. LSU has recruited 24 of them for its current freshman squad.

For the East, the backfield stars will be Ken Cormier of Jennings, Bruce Lavigne of Gonzales, Ronnie Morgan of Zachary and George Haynes of Clinton.

Chief backfield talent for the West was Mike Duhon of Sulphur, Chapman Lee of Tallulah, Alton Thomas of Shreveport's Byrd High and Hoyle Granger of Oberlin.

Outweighed in the line, the West sports offensive backfield averaging 187 pounds to the East's 178. The big man in the mammoth East defensive wall was 245-pound George Rice, a prep all-America from Istrouma.

Last year, when designation of the teams in the all-star game was changed from North and South to East and West, the East won 14-7.

When Virginia won the 1962 Atlantic Coast Conference lacrosse title the Cavaliers snapped Maryland's string. Maryland had won seven straight years.

Martin No-Hit Job Has South In Host Role

Richard Martin, who did his seasonal pitching for First National Bank, hurled a no-hitter Wednesday night as he pitched the South All-Stars of West Monroe into the host role for the seventh annual Dixie World Series of Little Boys baseball in West Monroe August 20-25.

The South All-Stars, undefeated in the double elimination four-team tournament that opened Saturday, defeated the North All-Stars of West Monroe, 5 to 1, in the deciding game Wednesday night in the Dixie Host Tournament that decided the official host team.

Martin helped his cause with a double, and Mike Ferlicca, regular season star for Colbert's Hardware, gave him bat support with a home run.

Charles Lenard and Richard Seale were Martin's catchers. Tommy Huff and Gary Rankin shared North pitching with Mike Oglesbee and Bibb Ragland dividing the catching.

The Dixie World Series, big show of Little Boys baseball, opens with a four - game program at the Little Boys North Seventh Street park in West Monroe on August 20 with the Louisiana champion playing Mississippi at 1 p.m. followed by South Carolina vs. Virginia-Georgia, 3 p.m.; Alabama vs. Florida, 6 p.m.; and Tennessee vs. West Monroe, 8 p.m.

The Louisiana champion will be determined in the state tournament opening Saturday at Ferriday and running through next week. West Monroe's South All-Stars will not participate for the state title, drawing an automatic role in the event by winning the Host Tournament.

Michigan State's football game with North Carolina will mark the first time since 1950 that the Spartans have played a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Miss Helene Earle Lowery Honoree At Bridal Parties

Miss Helene Earle Lowery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Lowery and bride-elect of Ron Reece, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Reece, whose wedding will be an event of August 4 in the First Methodist Church of Rayville, was named honoree, Tuesday, July 31, at a Sherry Party in the home of Mrs. Roy Meek on Speed Avenue.

Hostesses with Mrs. Meek were Mrs. Thomas Barham, and Mrs. T. F. Wilson.

Greeting guests as they entered were Mrs. Meek, the honoree, and her mother, Mrs. Lowery. Throughout the reception rooms, bouquets of summer flowers were placed at vantage points. Centering the refreshment table was a massive bouquet of magnolias and self-foliage. Miss Nancy Albright, and Miss Lynn Keller served sherry, and Miss Billie Jo Hanchey and Miss Hazel Hoben alternated at the silver coffee service. The Misses Carolyn Richardson and Janie Cobb presided at the guest book.

For the occasion the honoree chose a yellow sheath accented with flowered accessories.

Guests called between the appointed hours of 4 and 6 p.m.

LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. M. Shamblin, Mrs. Lasley Downes, and Mrs. Jimmy Thompson entertained for Miss Lowery with luncheon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club on Saturday, July 28. A bouquet of pink roses formed the focal point on the dining table. Place cards and rice bags marked the places for Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Robert Cudd, III, Mrs. Pat H. Earle, Miss Billie Jo Hanchey, Miss Charlotte McCarty, Miss Judy Beasley, Miss Carolyn Richardson, Miss Hazel Edna Hoben, the hostesses and the honoree, who was attired in a transitional print with patent accessories and a corsage of tuberoses.

The honoree, attired in white jersey with gold accessories, received a corsage of yellow mums interspersed with a miniature salt and pepper shaker, a canister set, and measuring cups.

Guests called at 7:00 p.m.

LUNCHEON

Thursday, July 26, Miss Pearl LeFeure and Miss Ruth Whatley feted Miss Lowery at luncheon in the LeFeure home on South Grand.

Arrangements of summer flowers were used at vantage points throughout the house. Gracing the luncheon table was a bridal bouquet of white Fujii mums, flanked on either side with silver candelabra entwined at the base with tiny mums and ribbon which led to the centerpiece.

Miss Lowery's dress was of beige shantung with accessories of flowered shantung in matching shades.

Those invited for 12:00 noon were Miss Lowery, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. C. W. Earle, Miss Janey Cobb, Miss Carolyn Richardson, Miss Hazel Hoben, Mrs. R. R. Rhymes, Mrs. Lasley Richardson, Mrs. J. H. Lowery, and Mrs. Dan Dennett.

Hostesses with Mrs. Branch were Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. Carl Metcalf, and Mrs. Victor Davis, Jr.

Pink roses in an antique angel epergne graced the dining table. Miss Brooks wore for the occasion a trousseau model of aqua silk complimented with corsage of a white orchid surrounded by tuberoses.

The theme was a shower of gifts which was carried out by a blue taffeta umbrella decorated with pink nosegays.

The tea table was covered with a cut-work linen table cloth, and held a centerpiece of pink elf roses in a silver and crystal epergne. The punch bowl at one end of the table was surrounded with ivy and pink rose buds. Other arrangements of roses were used at focal points throughout the party room.

Miss Brook's trousseau model for the party was a dress of pink polished cotton accented with a corsage of white mums, which was a gift of the hostesses.

Approximately 70 guests called between the appointed hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

LUNCHEON

Tuesday, July 24, Mrs. T. H. Scott entertained for Miss Brooks with a luncheon given in her home on Point Drive.

Dry Up Blemishes

Do you have acne? If so, the chances are that you also have oily skin. Washing your face three or four times a day with hot water and plenty of soapsuds treats both the blemishes and your greasy skin condition at the same time.

Engaged Couple Honored With Bridal Parties

On Saturday, July 28, Mr. and Mrs. Grover L. Holloway hosted a cocktail party at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club complimentary to Miss Masur and Mr. McElhaney.

Brightly lit hurricane lamps led the way to the porch overlooking the bayou where the receiving line was formed by Mrs. Holloway, the honored couple, and Mrs. Jack Masur.

Focal point of the porch was a magnificent basket epergne in white with flecks of mother-of-pearl filled with white tube roses, miniature yellow chrysanthemums white gladioli, and belles of Ireland cascading some four feet high, with three miniature yellow candles placed at vantage points.

Miss Masur was attired in a trousseau model of imported pink checked cotton with band appliqued on the bell shaped skirt of white organdy, featuring a beaded trimming with pink velveteen ribbon at the top of the strapless bodice, and scalloped embroidery. The bidding:

1♦	P	1♥	P
2♥	P	4♥	all pass

Those who took part in the national charity game last week will no doubt remember this hand, although it is entirely possible that the North - South result was not so felicitous. Only one comment on the bidding: it must come as quite a shock to those players who inist on four trumps to raise their partner's one over one to find this done on three the fastest company of all.

East made his best opening lead a small trump. Declarer let this come in, won with the 10 and led the deuce of diamonds. Dummy's jack went to the ace and a second trump was taken in dummy. North discarded a club on the king of diamonds, then ruffed a diamond, dropping East's queen. Dummy was reentered with a trump, picking up the suit. Two more clubs were discarded on the diamonds, and at the end North gave up a spade and a club, making four.

South was John Gerber, of Houston, who devised the convention bearing his name, and North was the well known columnist and TV star, Charles H. Goren.

Prenuptial Parties Fete Miss Keller, Jim Harper

Mrs. Irene Reid honored Miss Connie Keller and Jim Harper, whose marriage will be an event of August 24 at Our Lady of Fatima, with a patio kitchen shower, Friday night, July 28 at her home on Emerson Street. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Reid were Mrs. Evelyn Bledsoe, Mrs. Linda Terrell, Mrs. Thelma Oetgen and Mrs. Alva Reed.

A carnival theme was carried out for the gala party, beginning with the colorful invitations on carnival paper with a clown on front and an elephant on the back holding a banner announcing "Keller - Harper Carnival."

Torchway lights led up to the midway where a smiling life size clown welcomed the guests, with yet another clown and two small children nearby. Individual tables centered with hurricane lamps were set up on the open patio. A colorful canopy covered the opening leading to the covered patio outlined with multi - colored pennants and appeared to be the inside of a carnival tent with hundreds of balloons and lanterns hanging overhead, with traditional calliope music piped throughout the area. The sideshow to the right featured a lake complete with alligator, sea serpent, turtle and snake, surrounded by life size heads of an elephant, lion and tiger with a huge clown to the center back, and lighted by hidden lights placed among the banana plants and tropical greenery. To the left three grey elephant appeared to march along the wall.

The bride's book was placed on a table beside a hurricane lamp and clown head, with balloons hanging from above. A wicker basket of colorful roses was placed nearby.

A clown peeping through the banana plants was noted, in another area, while another appeared to be putting two elephants through their paces.

The three refreshment tables were covered with red and white checked cloths with matching napkins. Placards placed at different points announced the menu. Beside a lamp bunny was a sign with "Free Watermelon." Pink lemonade, popcorn balls and peanuts were among the many party foods served.

After playing several games, the gifts were brought to the honored couple in a wheelbarrow.

Approximately sixty guests were invited to attend the festive party.

BARBECUE

A sylvan setting on the bayou bank of Bayou Bartholomew was the scene for a barbecue hosted at the Bishop Johnston plantation home in Sterlington honoring Miss Keller and Mr. Harper. Co-hosts with Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSherry and Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Cole.

The barbecue was served buffet from an antique dining table, covered with a linen cloth. In the center of a low triangular arrangement, a hurricane lamp was placed within a glass aquarium where gold fish swam around the lighted candle, which reflected the color from the fish and flowers. This was the unique centerpiece for the table.

Individual tables were set up in the living room, porch and den, centered with bouquets of summer flowers placed in small baskets with a burning taper.

The guest list included Father Dave Dabria and Father George Martinez, Miss Mary Jane Young, Robert McMullen, Miss Jody Biedenharn, Bishop Johnston Jr., Miss Carol Cole, Dickie Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cole, Miss Ann Hobgood, Ray Thorn, Miss Carolyn Wills, Ray Manhart, Miss Marjorie Gilstrap, Wayne Coon, Miss Patricia Hollyway, Sonny Harper, Miss Linda Collett, Jay Goldsmith, Miss Linda Lee Woods, Miss Sara Hamilton, Miss Kathy McSherry, Miss Jo Libby Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McBeth.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I go with a girl who goes to confession and tells the priest all kinds of things about herself that are not true. I wouldn't mind so much, but she includes me. Abby, she told me she doesn't know why she does it, but when she starts to talk she can't stop. I go to the same priest and I don't want him to think I am that kind of person. Should I tell the priest that she is lying? I am 17 and so is she.

LIED ABOUT

DEAR LIED ABOUT: Encourage your friend to "confess" to the priest that she has lied about herself and you, not so much to protect your reputation, but for the sake of her own peace of mind. Compulsive lying is frequently a symptom of an emotional disturbance. Encourage your friend to see a doctor if it persists.

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a bride to play the piano at her own wedding? My daughter is a musician and wants to provide her own piano music. She will be married at home.

DOUBTFUL

DEAR DOUBTFUL: Your daughter should be satisfied to star at her wedding in the role of a bride.

DEAR ABBY: I am active in our ladies' church group and am considered a quiet person. We had a meeting today and got into a discussion on our rummage sale plans. While I was telling my views on how it should be run, one of the ladies reached over and held my mouth shut while she explained how she thought it should be run, I used to think a lot of this woman, and didn't let on how hurt I was. I went home and cried. Now tell me, Abby, what should I have done?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I suppose you could have bitten her, but perhaps she was only trying to be funny. You were wise to have said nothing. Your friend's action revealed her bad manners.

DEAR ABBY: I think you are a big phony. You claim that you answer every letter you get, but I wrote to you on June 9th and have looked in your column every day and you never answered my letter. I think you make up your own letters. I dare you to print this.

MAD AT YOU

DEAR MAD: I can't possibly answer every letter in my column, but if you had sent a self - addressed, stamped envelope you would have heard from me personally, and promptly. And thank you for the compliment. I wish I had the imagination to make up letters half as good as those I receive.

Tallulah Is The Scene Of Bridal Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Duplissey and Mrs. Eva Holt entertained at the home of Mrs. Holt on 4-B Ranch on Friday evening following the rehearsal of the wedding of Miss Ginny Williamson and Jim Brown. Miss Williamson wearing an all white ensemble accented by gold and pearl jewelry and the prospective bridegroom received guests.

The buffet table was centered with a silver and crystal epergne which held white stock, carnations, miniature mums and daisies. Small tables in the spacious game room and den were centered with single tapers entwined with ivy and lilies of the valley.

The bridal couple chose this time to exchange gifts and to present gifts to their attendants.

A large number of friends were invited to the gala occasion.

BRUNCH

Mrs. Katheryn Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Westmoreland were hostesses for a brunch in the private dining room of the Holiday Capri complimentary to Miss Ginny Williamson and her wedding attendants. A bride doll of white honeycomb tissue with touches of pink was used as the centerpiece.

Places were laid for Miss Williamson, her mother, Mrs. C. E. Williamson, Mrs. Charles Brown, mother of the groom-to-be, Mrs. Eva C. Holt, Mrs. Dick Brown, Mrs. C. L. Keene, Miss Louanna Brown, Miss Sonya Bowden, Miss Rita Reppond and Miss Mary Jane King.

CONVERSATIONAL HOUR

Among the parties honoring Miss Ginny Williamson was the conversational hour when Miss Dorothy Gilfoil entertained at her home at Omega Plantation, which was decorated throughout with bouquets of summer flowers. For the occasion the bride - elect wore a mint green ensemble. She was presented with a gift of crystal.

Guests invited to share the party were Mrs. C. E. Williamson, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Dick Brown, Mrs. C. L. Keene, Misses Margaret DeMoss, Louanna Brown, Lee Craig, Carolyn Wroten, Julia Webb, Carol Ursery, Gwen Querry, Margaret Gilfoil, Diane Todd, Yvonne Crothers, Mrs. J. M. Gilfoil.

Claudia Stewart Is Honored In Jonesboro

Bride - to - be Claudia Stewart whose marriage to Billy G. Rockett will be an event of August 19, was named guest of honor at a tea shower in the Railey Garrett home in Jonesboro last Wednesday evening, July 18. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Chet Steadman, Mrs. H. H. Irvin, Mrs. W. G. Bailey, Mrs. T. O. Dollar, Mrs. W. C. Spears, and Mrs. Garrett.

Guests were received by Mrs. Steadman, the bride - to - be, whose chose a pink and white lace sheath dress for the afternoon, the bride's mother, Mrs. Claude Stewart, the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Pleasant Boyd, his grandmother, Mrs. Rommie Bryan, and Mrs. Garrett.

Pink and white, the chosen colors for the event prevailed in every point of interest throughout the reception rooms. The refreshment table, encased in full white net over white, boasted a bride doll bedecked in white, and the bridesmaids dolls all gowned in pale pink replicas of a summer wedding. Mrs. Bill Holder offered pink fruit punch from the crystal service and dainty white petit-fours, and pink and white mints.

Silver candelabra holding aloft burning tapers were placed at one end of the buffet and a pink and white heart arrangement topped with lovebirds and wedding rings could be seen at the other end. Two large pink hearts interspersed with pink roses and greenery were placed behind the traditional miniatures of the bride and groom on the mantel, and many other lovely arrangements featuring pink and white wedding bells, pink roses and silver candelabra formed a setting in the receiving rooms for the afternoon.

Guests viewed the shower gifts arrayed on tables covered with white cutwork cloths over pink in the sun parlor. The main point of interest was a tiny pink umbrella entwined with posies and streamers.

Seated at the bride's book where the memory candle burned was Mrs. Sybil Gunter. Assisting with the courtesies was Miss Harriet Irvin.

Over one hundred guests called between the appointed hours of four and six o'clock. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. John Lintott, Jr., Ruston; Mrs. Mary Gough and Mrs. Evelyn Price, both of Winnfield; Mrs. Charles Palmer of Monroe; Miss Judith Brown of Tallulah; and Mrs. Lamoine Jones of Jackson, Mississippi.

That Kennedy Lavaliere Is A Fashion Touch

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

Causing a big stir in jewelry circles is the lavaliere lately worn by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy in place of the pearls to which she was formerly wedded.

The one the First Lady has been wearing with her typical skimmer dresses is a long gold and emerald chain ending in a gold pendant set with diamonds and emeralds. The pendant is detachable for use as a pin.

Although this lavaliere is possibly inspired by her Indian trip, where she was frequently presented with knee-length garlands of flowers ending in large ornaments, the lavaliere fits in with the current trend to antique and "real" looks in costume jewelry.

Chains, semi-precious stones, stick-pins and filigree work have all been seen for fall, and the lavaliere now bids fair to join them.

TEEN-AGE MAIL

By Dorothy Ricker

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

We are three 14 - year - old girls. In our group there are two girls who flirt and chase three of the boys like crazy. These particular boys (14, too) seem to like being chased and think we are "squares" because we consider this improper behavior for girls.

Recently we went to a party and these girls and boys were there. We three are good dancers, but not one of the three boys asked us to dance. Finally we asked them, but they were too busy waiting on the two girls. Before the evening was over we just about cried. We aren't the most beautiful girls in the world, but we are not considered ugly.

We've checked ourselves for bad breath, B O. and sloppy appearance, but we rate okay in these departments. What can we do to become more popular with these boys without acting boy-crazy?

JEAN, JANE AND JOAN

DEAR GIRLS:

Cheer up! These boys are too young and inexperienced to know very much about girls. As they grow older, and get smarter, they will not approve of boy - chasers — most older boys avoid them. Right now they are bedazzled by the attention from the girls, but one of these days they suddenly will realize that a girl who chases boys can turn out to be a real nuisance.

I guess the main reason for your 'problem' is that you are interested in these three particular boys. My advice is to be patient and give them a little time to get over their interest in the girls — and they will, I promise you. In the meantime, don't forget there are many other and perhaps more interesting boys around. Since you, too, are quite young, a word of caution — don't make the mistake of trying to compete with these girls by using their tactics. If they keep on being too aggressive, they will lose out in the long run.

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

Out of my whole family I am the only one who is, what you might call, an "ugly duckling." I am 14, skinny and hair is too short, but I am trying to put on some weight and to improve my hair. My mother has strong feelings against me so I can't talk to her.

My 16 - year - old sister is very popular and sort of cute, but we don't get along at all. It seems that I do everything wrong, and if this goes on my life will be ruined! Mrs. Ricker, I'm asking for help so please don't let me down.

S.O.S.

DEAR S.O.S.:

Nobody does everything just right, but any normal person does not do everything wrong and I feel sure that this is true in your case. Obviously, you are not very happy with yourself right now so perhaps you take it out on your family. In other words, isn't it possible that it is partly your own fault when you do not get along with Mom and Sis?

My advice is to make a real effort to be a happier person. Don't be too self - critical, do your best at all times and try to get along with your family. I am sure that your mother and sister love you very much, but give then a chance to show it. You see, if you are sullen, argumentative and antagonistic toward them, you cannot expect them to react with sweetness. Do things to please them and ask for their help in improving your appearance. Try it — I think you will be happily surprised at the result. Good luck!

U.S. Missiles Take Over Targets Assigned To British

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. missiles will take over Communist targets now assigned to 60 British-manned Thor rockets after they are taken off their pads.

American authorities disclosed this today following a British announcement that the above-ground vulnerable Thor missile bases in Britain will be closed down during the coming year.

U.S. informants said "the basis of the British action was financial. They suggested the money Britain saves in this way may be used to strengthen her conventional forces—including those assigned to NATO—and said this meets with U.S. approval.

Officials expect the 1,500-mile range Thors to go out of operation by October 1963.

By that time, the United States will have nearly doubled its fleet of Polaris-missile-firing submarines from the present nine to 17. The Navy considers them virtually invulnerable to attack.

Each Polaris sub mounts 16 nuclear-tipped missiles, and one official noted that four such submarines would more than make up any loss in striking power from dismantling the 60 Thors.

Also, the force of American 6,300-mile range intercontinental ballistic missiles will have risen from the present 81 to more than 480 by the time the Thors are taken down.

President Kennedy told his news conference late Wednesday the British gave the United States advance notice of their intention to end the Thor agreement.

Salad Bowl
Bread Tray
Mary's Summer Fruit Cup

MARY'S SUMMER FRUIT CUP

2 orange
4 medium peaches
1 cup honeydew melon balls
½ cup fresh blueberries
¼ cup clover honey (pale colored)
1 tablespoon lime juice

Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; cut away sections from dividing membranes into a bowl so no orange juice is wasted; squeeze any juice from parings into bowl. Peel and slice peaches into bowl. Add melon and blueberries. At one side of bowl mix together the honey and lime juice; mix gently with fruit. Cover and chill. Makes 6 servings.

SATURDAY LUNCH

When your young daughter wants to try her hand at cooking, here's a recipe to use.

Openface Toasted Cheese and Bacon Sandwiches
Peach Flower Salad
Beverage

PEACH FLOWER SALAD

1 package (3 ounces) peach flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
20 canned peach slices
2 maraschino cherries
Salad greens and dressing

Empty gelatin into mixing bowl; pour in boiling water; stir until gelatin dissolves; stir in cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. In a square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inch[illegible]) make 4 flowers with the pe[illegible]lices; use 5 slices for each flower's petals; place half a cherry in the center of each.

Space each flower so it will be in the center of a square quarter-section of the pan. Carefully spoon the slightly thickened gelatin into pan. With a fork replace any flower petals that move. Chill until firm. Loosen edges of gelatin with a small spatula.

Carefully cut into 4 squares so there is a flower in each; take out of pan with a pancake turner or wide spatula and place on individual salad plates; tuck salad greens around. Pass salad dressing. Makes 4 servings.

SUNDAY SUPPER

PICKLED EGGS AND BEETS

1 can (1 pound) sliced beets
1 cup cider vinegar
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
6 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
6 eggs (hard-cooked and shelled)

Drain beets, cover and refrigerate. Pour beet juice (there should be 1 cup) into a small saucepan and add vinegar, sugar, cloves and cinnamon. Boil gently for 10 minutes; remove spice.

Place eggs in a wide-top 1½ pint jar; add hot beet juice mixture. Place several beet slices over eggs to keep them submerged. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Remove eggs and serve; add drained beets to marinade, cover and chill overnight.

When the beets are added at the same time as the eggs, the latter do not get pickled enough.

Season Barbecue New Way

Sometimes its the little hints which transform an ordinary dish into a memorable one.

Here are ideas for better enjoyment of barbecued chicken, sundaes, tuna, and sodas, as well as grilled meat.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

A new method of seasoning barbecued chicken makes the best birds ever, according to the National Broiler Council.

Try seasoning the bird five minutes before the end of cooking time rather than before grilling. If the seasoning — salt, pepper, paprika, poultry seasoning, tarragon — is added early in cooking, it tends to be dispelled as the juice runs off. This new way, the herbs and spices remain right on the bird. And grilled chicken, seasoned properly, is sure to be the hit of the barbecue.

SUNDAE BEST

Delectable Molasses Praline Sauce provides a good sundae any day of the week: Combine ½ cup each of unsulphured molasses and honey; stir in a pinch of salt and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Serve over ice cream and top with pecans. Thanks to unsulphured molasses, the sauce has an inimitable, mellow flavor.

TUNA

Dr. D. B. Finn is an expert on tuna, both as a scientist and cook. The gentleman is the Director of the Fisheries Division of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. He suggests adding flaked tuna to the egg batter of an omelet, frying the mixture as usual, and topping the finished omelet with a Spanish sauce of tomato paste and diced cooked green pepper. The delicate flavor of the tuna combines happily with the eggs and sauce.

FLAVOR

Good meat tastes better cooked over a grill, tastes best of all when seasoned with Ac'cent. The unique crystals have no taste of their own, bring out the full natural taste of meats. Ac'cent makes beef taste "beefier," brings out all the sweet, delicate flavor of chicken, for instance. Simply sprinkle on Ac'cent before cooking, using 1 teaspoon per pound of meat.

TEEN'S SODA

Ingredients right in your kitchen provide teens with delicious ice-cream sodas. Invaluable elements: quick chocolate-flavored mix and quick strawberry-flavored mix provide the flavor for the teen soda center. The convenient mixes add instant flavor as well as nutrients to sodas; both kinds are fortified with vitamins and iron. The other elements are ice cream, milk, and carbonated water. Make the basic sodas and vary them, if you choose, with added flavoring.

Strawberry or Chocolate Soda: In a tall glass, stir 3 heaping teaspoons quick chocolate-flavored mix or quick strawberry-flavored mix into ¼ cup milk. Add 1 scoop softened vanilla ice cream, stir, and fill with sparkling water.

Chocolate Soda Variations: Stir in ⅛ teaspoon mint extract, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon, or 1 tablespoon strained banana baby food.

Strawberry Soda Variations: Stir in ¼ teaspoon pineapple flavoring or ⅛ teaspoon orange flavoring.

Here's Secret For Baking Tall Biscuits

Oh, those beautiful tall biscuits you see in food ads. Envious?

Here's a little secret in biscuit baking that, carefully done, will give you the same lovely high biscuits, says Mrs. Irene Turner, nutrition specialist with the Louisiana State University Cooperative Extension Service.

After lightly kneading the dough for 30 seconds, roll it out, rolling just once up and back. Fold the dough in half and roll again with just two strokes then fold and roll a third time. Cut with a biscuit cutter or knife and pop them into the oven.

Remember — the secret's in handling the dough as little as and as quickly as possible. Try it and see the handsome flaky biscuits you'll get.

Wants Barnett Talk Canceled

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Negro attorney Jack Tanner urged the State Bar Association Wednesday to withdraw a speaking invitation to Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett.

Tanner, a director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here, called Barnett a segregationist "who has consistently opposed and attacked the U.S. Supreme Court and our whole judiciary system."

Paul Ashley, president of the state bar, said Barnett was invited to address the association convention to be held in Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 6-8.

Odds Tilted Against Kennedy Asking Quick Tax Cut

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy still isn't saying whether he will recommend a quick tax cut. But the odds appeared today to be tilted against it by better economic news and resistance in Congress to the idea.

Kennedy took cognizance at his news conference Wednesday of an especially bright economic indicator: Unemployment dropped last month to the lowest rate since May 1960. A better-than-forecast decline of 450,000 brought the number of idled workers to just over 4 million, or 5.3 per cent of the work force, compared with 5.5 per cent in June.

Kennedy termed the reduction somewhat encouraging. But he reiterated that before finally deciding whether he will recommend quick tax relief, he wants to look at all the July economic statistics. The last of them will be available in about a week.

He also left no doubt he is taking some guidance from congressional opinion, as well as the statistics and his economic advisers' interpretation of them.

"The views of the members of the House and Senate, the schedule of the House and Senate," he said, must be considered. And he said that, after looking at the economic data, "We will discuss the matter with the appropriate members of the responsible committees."

The committee completely responsible, at the outset, for all tax legislation is House Ways and Means, and it appears opposed to a tax cut now.

This close-mouthed group is nearing the end of a series of executive hearings on the status of the economy. Major issues are what form of tax revision—including rate reduction—should be enacted next year and whether conditions warrant a quickie cut earlier than that. Kennedy already is on record as favoring a net reduction in income tax, effective Jan. 1, as part of a general tax overhaul.

Most committee members, including Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who confers frequently with the President, were understood to oppose a quick tax cut when the hearings began last week.

Soundings of committee opinion today gave no indication that any minds had been changed, or even that any trend favoring immediate tax changes had developed in the testimony given behind closed doors by business, labor and farm spokesmen and academic economists.

Somewhat similar, but public, hearings are scheduled next week by the Joint Senate-House Economic Committee. Its chairman, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., is on record as doubting the wisdom of a quick tax cut. And Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said such ammunition shouldn't be used until Congress could see "the whites of the eyes" of a recession.

Kennedy put his finger on one problem the administration will encounter if it ties tax reduction to general reform and still hopes to stimulate the economy: The time Congress takes to act on controversial fiscal legislation.

If he should recommend a tax reduction in January, Kennedy said, "if you go through the usual procedures the bill will not come to the floor of the Senate, possibly, until late summer, and by then we would have gone through nearly a year more."

Injuries Fatal To Mother Of 12

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Violet Rink, 49, mother of 12, collapsed and died in Episcopal Hospital Wednesday while visiting her husband, Frank, 55, who was seriously injured three hours earlier in a scaffold accident.

Mrs. Rink had just approached her husband's bed when she slumped to the floor. She apparently died of a cerebral hemorrhage, authorities said.

Her husband had been impaled on a scaffold hook when the anchor for a working platform had pulled loose at the Lighthouse Club. Rink had been on the scaffold near the top of the 3½-story building, painting brick.

The point pierced his back, causing serious internal injuries. Despite intense pain, Rink managed to pull himself off the hook and slid down the rope to the ground.

Action Asked On Rail Crossing At Jewel Street

With the Jewel Street railroad crossing still unprotected, the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce has written to the Illinois Central Railroad, requesting further action on installing warning lights.

Roy Brooks, chairman of the WMCC highways and streets committees, revealed today that he has written J. M. Trissal, chief engineer for the ICRR in Chicago.

On April 9, Trissal said that the IC signal department had begun the circuit plans and contract for the installation of flashing signals at the intersection of Highway 617 and the railroad.

"We hope that the signal lights are forthcoming in the very near future," Brooks wrote.

The project was started by the Chamber in 1961, after several persons were killed or injured at the crossing.

The Louisiana Highway Department has pledged to pay 50 per cent of the installation cost, the Ouachita Police Jury will pay 40 per cent and the ICRR 10 per cent.

Crump Parole Issue Simmers

CHICAGO (AP)—Legal controversy swirled today around Paul Crump, a convicted slayer whose electrocution sentence was commuted on the strength of an unprecedented plea.

Gov. Otto Kerner decided Wednesday that Crump, less than 35 hours away from death in the electric chair for a 1953 murder, should be spared.

The governor, in his clemency message in Springfield, said Crump, 32, "must be accepted as rehabilitated."

Crump, a Negro in his nine year fight to escape the electric chair had won 14 stays of execution. The U.S. Supreme Court had three times refused to hear his appeal.

Clemency was the governor's decision alone to make. However, controversy grew over Kerner's statement that Crump should serve "199 years without parole."

Statehouse legal experts said the governor has no authority over granting paroles, a matter solely up to the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board.

Under the new Illinois criminal code adopted Jan. 1, the experts pointed out, Crump could apply for parole after serving 20 years in prison.

Crump received the news of his escape from the electric chair from Warden Jack Johnson.

"All the credit," Crump said in a voice shaky with emotion, "should go to God for my life. I thank God, Governor Kerner and all the men who had faith and worked so hard to bring this case to the attention of the governor and the public."

Kennedy Solidly Behind Space Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says he's still solidly behind his communications satellite bill as the measure moves from the arena of a Senate filibuster into the hands of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"This bill was carefully drafted," Kennedy said Wednesday at his news conference. "We believe that it is the most effective way of providing for the development of a communications satellite."

The measure provides for the public and communications companies to share 50-50 in the stock of a corporation to launch and operate communications satellites.

A militant band of Democrats who favor government ownership of the corporation tied the Senate in knots for five days when administration forces tried to bring the measure up. A truce was effected forces tried to bring the measure up. A truce was effected Wednesday, sending the bill to the foreign relations committee.

Beside opposing private ownership, the opponents contended the bill would infringe on Kennedy's authority in the foreign affairs field.

"I don't agree with that," Kennedy told newsmen. He said the bill had been considered at numerous conferences, and that the responsibilities of the White House, State Department and other agencies "are very well reserved."

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, said opponents of the measure will have ample opportunity to question top administration officials in public hearings starting Friday.

The committee has instructions to report back to the Senate no later than a week from Friday. Under terms of the truce further debate on a motion to take up the bill would be barred, but the filibuster could be resumed against the measure itself.

Urges Inquiry

NEW YORK (UPI) — Attorney General Robert Kennedy should investigate the "disgraceful" racial crisis in Albany, Ga., the National Urban League's executive director declared Wednesday.

In a telegram to President Kennedy, Whitney M. Young said the attorney general's office should "act speedily to restore to (Negro) citizens rights that have been violated." The situation in Albany "threatens the very fabric of our democracy," Young added.

Storms Hamper Search For Plane

NEW DELHI (AP) — Thick clouds and thunderstorms hampered an air search today for a Nepali airliner missing with 10 persons aboard, including two U.S. government officials.

The DC3 Dakota presumably crashed Wednesday in jungles or farmland at the foot of the Himalayas while on a flight from Katmandu to New Delhi. It was last heard from over the India-Nepal border.

The U.S. Embassy's Convair joined Indian and Nepali planes in the search.

Passengers included Sidney B. Jacques and Oscar Curtis Holder, both 51 and both from Washington, D.C. The U.S. Embassy said they were touring inspectors of the Agency for International Development.

Jacques is a native of Rhode Island and former director of the American aid mission in Greece. Holder, a Mississippian, has been a staff officer in the State Department in Washington.

Other passengers included a Canadian woman, Miss C. Grindley of Toronto.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) —Indonesia has purchased $200,000 worth of the $200 million United Nations emergency bond issue bringing to $78,308,257, the total amount purchased or pledged to date.

The announcement Wednesday brought to $27,740,000 actual payments made so far by 18 countries of the 46 pledged to make bond purchases.

Terri's Tips

Dear Terri:

I own some tourist courts. Try as I do . . . I cannot get rid of roaches. My courts are clean too! Sure I want guests, but only the two-legged variety.

Tourist Court Owner

Dear Sir:

Purchase a bottle of Johnston's No-Roach and pour some in a plastic squeeze bottle with very small holes (such as the type used for sprinkling clothes) and squirt this liquid around showers, on all baseboards, under soft drink machines and on all your windows and doors. You can then say "Goodbye" to those non-paying guests.

11-Year-Old Principal Of Unique School

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Eleven-year-old Diane Rabe wants to be a grade school teacher. She's already a school principal.

The Erie youngster is the principal of a school for preschool children held in the backyard of her home. It's taught by grade school pupils.

She and her "faculty"—Kathy Volpe, Tamara Maloney, and Debbie Messinger, all 10, and Debbie Suhfran, 8—hold regular classes for about a dozen children ranging from three to five years. They teach counting, printing letters, singing, coloring and playing games—and they also give report cards.

"Mostly we give A's and B's," Diane said. "C is about the lowest. One time we gave one little kid a D, but he's improving a lot now."

There are disciplinary problems. They're solved in adult fashion.

"If a little kid doesn't behave, we make him stand in a corner," Diane said. "They don't like that. They think the other kids will talk about them and they won't get played with."

Diane and her fellow teachers started the school last summer, but they were only playing then.

"We took a vote and decided to have a school every day (this year)," the young school marm said. "We saved up money from our allowances, and took up a collection from the little kids' parents so we could buy stuff we need like crayons and paper."

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

MISS MIDNIGHT'S NOTEBOOK: Rosalind Russell seems to get all the roles in screen versions of Broadway plays. Now she's wanted for the cinema edition of "The Night of the Iguana" . . . The first of the authentic Oscar suggestions has come in. Insiders bet James Mason will be a nominee for the Academy Awards because of his performance in "Lolita" . . . The stock that seems to be booming most in Summer stock. Companies starring big names are racking up record figures all around the country.

Darryl Zanuck will make "Fate is the Hunter" as his next epic after "The Longest Day." The best - seller novel about commercial airline pilots was written by Richard K. Gann, author of "The High and the Mighty." John Wayne (who else?) will play the lead . . The Sardi set is gabbing about a popular comedian who received a cable from his ex - wife in London, saying she was going to be remarried and live in Africa. She added that he could have custody of their small child because she didn't want the moppet . .Out in far Hollywood they're linking Ann - Margaret and Larry Kent. (No, I don't believe it, either.) . . Stan Kenton, or somebody, came up with an incongruous combination for the latest Kenton album. It has vocals by cowboy actor Tex Ritter, and features Alvino Rey on the guitar—which is about as far from Stan's style as you can get.

Pierre Dominique Gaisseau, the French film director responsible for the prize - winning "The Sky Above — The Mud Below," has been busy directing a French crew in Harlem. He's doing a documentary on the neighborhood for the government - controlled French TV. . Hume Cronyn, who grew a beard for his role as a Greek mathematician in "Cleopatra," can't wait to shave it off. He and his wife, actress Jessica Tandy, plan a vacation at their own private island in the Bahamas and Hume says, "I don't want to be mistaken for a Castro follower."

Lili Damita, once married to Erroll Flynn, waited a long time between husbands, but now that she is happily honeymooning with Allen R. Loomis she tells friends "He's the right man in my life" . . The government has printed a pamphlet title "Evolution of Methods for evaluating the Occurence of Floods." (My own method: When the water begins to slosh around your knees, start worrying.) . . Richard Egan's TV show, "Empire," has two units shooting segments simultaneously, but 200 miles apart. Richard flies his own plane back and forth, so he can appear on both sets.

Melina Mercouri tells friends she doesn't intend to have any children when and if she marries Jules Dassin. Her theory: "If you want to be a great actress, you admit to yourself that there is no place in your life for children. To pretend otherwise is hypocrisy." (Then again there are Helen Hayes, Ingrid Bergman and a host of others who have managed very well.) . . . Bernice Massi, the bundle of talent in "No Strings," is wanted for the Horst Bucholz play, "Andorra," next season.

Barcelona has become one of the swingin'-est cities in Europe. Name it, it's got it . . Chums report that those headlined battles between Anna Kashfi and Marlon Brando have ended, and they've become "amazingly friendly" . .. Marilyn Monroe, in an August magazine issue, tells Alan Levy, "I am trying to prove to myself that I am a person. Then maybe I'll convince myself that I am an actress." Marilyn, you're a PERSON — I don't care what your psychiatrist says.

Two of the beauties who have been sashaying through El Morocco these hot Summer nights are Lynda Lee Meade and Marilyn Van der Beer, both "Miss America" winners. And it's easy for them to get to Zebraland; they live in the apartment house right next door . . How do you like your martinis? One of the bartenders at the Park Sheraton is named Frank Olive.

U.S. Accused Of Preparing China Invasion

TOKYO (UPI) — The chief of staff of Communist China's army accused the United States Wednesday of "actively preparing to invade China from three fronts."

Senior Gen. Lo Jui-Ching made the charge in an anti-American address delivered at a Peiping banquet hailing the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Communist Chinese People's Liberation Army. He accused President Kennedy of "criminal intrigues."

Lo, who holds the rank of vice premier in the Peiping government, was quoted in a broadcast of the Communist New China News Agency monitored here.

He said that since the Communist revolution drove President Chiang Kai - Shek's government from the Chinese mainland in 1949, "U.S. imperialism has remained hostile toward the Chinese people and has continued to dream of a comeback to ride roughshod over the Chinese people once again."
